A program may be granted an eight-year, three-year, or two-year term of accreditation, depending on the extent of its conformance with established educational standards.

Doctor of Architecture and Master of Architecture degree programs may require a preprofessional undergraduate degree in architecture for admission. However, the preprofessional degree is not, by itself, recognized as an accredited degree.

American University in Dubai, School of Architecture Art and Design offers the following NAAB-accredited degree programs:

Mission, Philosophy, Goals, Vision and Values

Mission

The Mission of the American University in Dubai is to serve as a culturally diverse learning community committed to the pursuit of knowledge through excellence in teaching and scholarly and creative endeavor, leading to students' academic, personal and professional success, as well as the advancement of society.

Statement of Philosophy

The Philosophy of The American University in Dubai is derived directly from its Mission. In its essence, AUD is a learning community. This is most noticeably manifested in the aspirations of two principal constituencies – students and faculty. Students seek to learn through the acquisition of knowledge and skill. Exposure to human, cultural and experiential diversity plays a crucial role in this acquisition process. Many avenues are open to faculty for learning, including their own scholarly and creative activity. Contributing to knowledge via this activity helps faculty fulfill their most important commitment; that is, imparting knowledge to the students they teach and mentor.

It is expected that as learners committed to continuous improvement, students – following graduation – will be successful in fulfilling their personal and professional objectives; and that faculty – through the on-going processes of study and knowledge advancement – will contribute to and develop expertise in their disciplines and become ever more effective teachers.

All strive to become better thinkers. The university is confident that the appropriate exercise of its Philosophy, reflecting an innate drive towards academic excellence, constitutes its most significant contribution to the shaping of a better world.

Purpose-Related Goals of the University

In support of its Philosophy and Mission, AUD's Goals, Vision and Values are as follows:

- To cultivate and reward excellence, especially as it affects the imparting, acquisition, and advancement of knowledge;
- To guide students in the use of their knowledge and skills for personal and professional fulfillment;
- To foster an appreciation of the history and on-going development of human culture;
- To develop critical thinking, effective communication and lifelong learning skills;
- To promote the value of ethical behavior, responsibility, and commitment;
- To provide academic programs, services, facilities, and technologies that offer diverse opportunities for learning;
- To recruit and retain a diverse faculty of qualified educators, providing them with the environment and opportunity to flourish as teachers and contributors to knowledge in and practice of their disciplines;
- To foster intercultural understanding as a basis for preparing students as members of a global community; and,
- To contribute to the economic and societal development of Dubai, the United Arab Emirates and beyond.

Vision

- Enhanced standards and quality in program offerings;
- Selective diversification in program portfolio;
- The liberal arts as the wider context for life-long learning and professional readiness;
- Ever more “American” in terms of the total educational experience;
- Strengthened integration with local community (university as an intellectual, pedagogical and socio-cultural reference point); and,
- Embracing the expansion of physical resources and technological application as opportunities for cutting edge delivery of its academic programs and services.

Values

There are ten (10) values that underpin AUD's operations and development and that characterize its dealings with students, faculty, staff, and other constituents:

Whole Person Education – AUD values the intellectual, personal and professional development of its students.

Excellence – AUD values excellence in all that it does and is committed to continuous improvement in its educational offerings and services.

Integrity – AUD values honesty and transparency and has high standards of legal-adherence, morality and ethics.

Service – AUD values all of its constituencies and partners with its stakeholders in the achievement of their objectives and aspirations.

Diversity – AUD values diversity in all its manifestations and recognizes its contribution to the quality of university life.

Tolerance – AUD values respect and open-mindedness as proper responses to concepts, opinions and customs that are diverse, new or unfamiliar.

Accountability – AUD believes that all members of the university community are responsible for fulfilling their roles in support of the institutional Mission and Purpose-related Goals and that evaluation of individual performance should be based on the degree to which this responsibility is satisfied.

Collaboration – AUD values teamwork and outreach as a means of deriving superior solutions.

Innovation – AUD values innovation as reflected in knowledge creation, creative expression and continuous improvement.

Best practice – AUD recognizes the worth added to its policies and operations by best practice in American higher education.

Statement on Integrity

As an institution committed to quality, The American University in Dubai views integrity as an underlying tenet to its Mission and Purposes. The university uses the integrity tenet as a foundation for all of its operations, services and programs. Integrity serves as an integral foundation to university governance at the level of the Governing Board and in all university operations, institutional representations, advertising, marketing, and services. Honesty and integrity are essential to these functions and serve as the basic contract defining the relationship between the university and its constituencies. The intention of the university is to advance the intellectual and social condition of learners in a diverse society through quality academic programs, services and other learning opportunities. The university strives to provide students with a learning environment anchored by the highest caliber of instruction built on a solid intellectual and ethical foundation.

What Makes AUD American

In fulfillment of its mission as one of the few American-accredited institutions of higher learning in the Gulf, The American University in Dubai seeks to duplicate the American recipe for successful higher education. Syllabi and textbooks are the same as those used in the United States. In addition, the presence of American and American-trained faculty members further ensures that the university remains American in substance as well as in name. Expectations of academic performance either match or exceed those prevailing on a “typical” American campus.

Several factors explain the excellence, which underpins American higher education and guides AUD in the expression of its American character:

- A curriculum that imparts general knowledge but allows for significant specialization;
- A program of extra-curricular activities designed to cultivate the student’s humanistic outlook and social skills;
- Faculty members who combine scholarship and pedagogy in exercising their classroom duties;
- Teaching methods that develop strong skills in critical reasoning and precise and persuasive self-expression;
- The maintenance of high academic standards via clear and consistent policies; and
- Instilling an appreciation for life-long learning.

One might observe that the description above portrays all universities. Yet, it is widely believed that something sets American universities apart. The university maintains that in its final analysis, it is a series of values/perspectives that distinguish American higher education. It is ultimately AUD’s adoption of these values and their translation into operating policy that make AUD American. Key specifics are:

Individuality

Individuality is of the utmost importance at AUD. The university promotes creativity and independent thinking. AUD students are free to express their opinions in class and are encouraged to think for themselves. This concept extends beyond the classroom, as the student actively participates in the process of negotiating internships, seeking work outside the university, conferencing with instructors and confronting problem situations. An AUD education is heavily influenced by a work ethic that maintains that effort and personal integrity lead to success.

Self-Reliance

The responsibility for learning and being informed about university policies also ultimately rests with the student. If a lengthy reading assignment is given, instructors expect and demand that students understand and comprehend the information in the reading even when it is not discussed in class. Instructors are there to help, but students are expected to speak up and question if they do not understand a concept. Students must take initiative and seek to complete assignments with minimal guidance. This includes locating resources, both printed and electronic. In summary, at AUD, students are expected to be resourceful, knowledge-seeking individuals who are highly motivated and desire success. Being told what to do and how to do it are not the norms. Students should strive to fully understand all aspects of AUD's academic life and rules and regulations.

Diversity

The environment at AUD is one of tolerance and respect for the more than eighty nationalities represented in the university community. Central to AUD's American character is a profound regard for the cultures and religions of its students and the people of the U.A.E. This appreciation for diversity extends to the classroom. The climate prevalent in our courses often varies from instructor to instructor. Curricula are not totally standardized. Academic freedom is integral to AUD's philosophy.

The Honor Code

An honor system is standard practice in all respected American universities. Thus, cheating on tests, plagiarizing (presenting another's ideas as your own) and turning in assignments completed by others are all prohibited. (See section on Honor Code). Violation of the Honor Code can result in failure of a course or even dismissal from the university. AUD takes the Honor Code very seriously and is diligent in the monitoring of and application of penalties.

Critical Thinking

At AUD, the emphasis is on developing critical thinking skills more than accumulating facts. Students are taught to assess critically a situation or problem and develop a solution. Learning involves experimenting with new ideas and synthesizing material. Application of knowledge is more important than memorization.

Participation/Communication

Active participation is expected of students in almost every courses. Frequently, courses allot a percentage of the grade for class participation. This may include presentations, taking part in class discussions, a display of effort, initiative, professionalism, role-playing, simulations, asking questions, etc. Consistent with the American tradition, students are encouraged to aspire to become great communicators – orally and in writing.

Group Work/Teamwork

AUD encourages group, offering students opportunities to work in a variety of situations. Students are reminded to read the AUD Honor Code, specifically the part on cheating and plagiarism. They should pay careful attention to their instructors regarding group projects. Unless specifically authorized, students must work individually and refrain from seeking collaboration of parties other than the instructor.

Social and Academic Dimensions

Access to social development is important. AUD offers a wide variety of extracurricular activities. All students are encouraged to be well-rounded with ongoing participation in activities outside the classroom. There is value in joining clubs, playing sports, engaging in community service, or working part-time. Extracurricular involvement will also have an added advantage, because many employers are looking for individuals who have demonstrated a mix of academic, social and leadership capabilities.

Student-Instructor Relationships

Students are encouraged to develop professional relationships with their instructors and meet with them during office hours for clarifications or to discuss concerns. Instructors have high expectations of students, and students should strive to meet these expectations. Instructors at AUD go to great lengths to help students meet those expectations. A deep concern on the part of instructors for student welfare and a sense of responsibility on the part of students make for a dynamic environment where learning takes place.

Non-Negotiable Deadlines

Punctuality and deadlines are important. Students are expected to hand in assignments on the due date at the specified time. Extensions of deadlines are rarely possible. Late assignments often lose points or letter grades. Some instructors will not accept late assignments.

Part-Time Employment

It is not uncommon for university students to work at part-time jobs during their education. In fact, in most American universities this practice is encouraged. AUD is no exception. Students can gain valuable work experience by working for pay or volunteering throughout their university careers. Most employers welcome and think highly of students whose CVs that list work beyond the classroom. In today's world, jobs are at a premium and competition often demands ongoing work experience prior to graduation. On campus and off campus part-time jobs and internships offers are listed with the Career Services Unit.

AUD TRADITIONS

American Graduation Ceremony

The American University in Dubai follows the standards of academic dress and protocols followed by hundreds of American institutions of higher education. Students wear black gowns with accompanying caps. The mantle, worn over the shoulders, is distinguished by AUD's colors of blue and white and an accompanying border distinguishing the particular discipline. Faculty members wear the academic dress from the institution from which they received their highest degree or an American University in Dubai academic costume. Students wear the cap or "mortar board" in black with a black tassel. The tassel is worn on the right until a degree has been conferred. At that point, the tassel is moved to the left by AUD's President during the actual ceremony. Students who have achieved academic honors are designated by honor cords which are worn around the neck and visible at the front of the gown. The academic procession is led by a marshal carrying the university's flag. Master candidates are first, followed by Bachelor's candidates. After the students enter, another marshal leads the faculty and staff. They are then followed by the members of the faculty and administration along with the Keynote Speaker. The procession ends with two marshals carrying the flags of the United Arab Emirates and the United States of America. Keynote speakers have included James Baker, Ray LaHood, Steve Forbes, Seymour Hersh, George Mitchell, Bill Clinton, Sandy Berger, Madeline Albright, Christiane Amanpour, Cherie Booth Blair, Margaret Spellings, Colin L. Powell, Lou Dobbs, Robert Gibbs, Dennis Kucinich, Arianna Huffington and Antonio Villaraigosa, Gordon Brown, Sara Ganim, Jimmy Wales, Donald J. Trump Jr. and most recently Sam Barnett.

AUD Gala Dinner/Awards Ceremony

Held in spring of each academic year, the AUD Gala Dinner is a formal event that honors AUD graduates as well as other students, faculty and staff. A series of esteemed awards, including the President's Award for Student Excellence, Departmental Awards, and Student Affairs Awards, are granted based on nominations from the AUD community.

Orientation

Each year the Office of Student Affairs organizes a series of orientation trips/gatherings to allow new AUD students to connect with student Peer Advisors to become acquainted with AUD student life, as well as the AUD community at-large. These events are designed to foster a sense of community and encourage new students to get involved in campus life.

International Night

AUD capitalizes on its diverse student population by holding an annual International Night. Students are encouraged to wear their national dress, showcase their unique cultural traditions and share their heritage with the entire AUD community. Dances, singing, fashion shows, and plays performed by AUD's various cultural groups are some of the highlights of this event.

U.A.E. National Day

Each November, all members of the AUD community are invited to join in a celebration of Emirati culture during National Day festivities, which are coordinated and hosted by AUD's Emirati students.

Student Forum

The AUD Student Forum is designed, executed, and managed by the AUD Student Government Association (SGA), under the guidance of the Student Activities division. The Forum is held during the Spring semester and is a mean by which the university collects student feedback about AUD issues. A general survey is conducted by the SGA, which reviews all issues related to campus life, i.e. sports, residence halls, student activities, general academic issues, and general non-academic/administrative issues. The Director of Institutional Effectiveness provides the SGA members with the results of the Student Satisfaction Survey. These results are combined with the results from the SGA survey and both are used to create a presentation for the Student Forum.

STUDENT RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

AUD believes all students should have equal access to all of its facilities, programs, activities, and sports without regard to age, color, religion, national origin, marital status, gender, or handicap. All students are granted certain rights and have certain shared responsibilities as members of the AUD community. AUD encourages students to make their own decisions and assume full responsibility for all consequences of their actions. Students are expected to adhere to federal and local laws of the United Arab Emirates. The rights and the responsibilities outline a system designed to safeguard and protect the rights, safety, and property of all members of the university population, which ensures a fully operative and well-managed community of learning.

Freedom of Assembly

The university recognizes the rights of all students to seek knowledge, debate ideas, form opinions, and freely express their views while respecting the rights and freedoms of others. The university recognizes the right of freedom of assembly, but student gatherings must not disrupt or interfere with the operation of the university. Any recognized student organization, after receiving approval for time and space, may hold group meetings inside a university building. The use of public address and sound equipment systems is prohibited outside the university facilities. Any use of this equipment inside university facilities must maintain a reasonable sound level. Any recognized student organization may invite persons from outside the university to speak. This is subject to approval by the Student Activities Coordinators, the faculty/staff advisor of the specific student organization, and the Marketing Communications Manager if the event is open to the public.

Freedom of Expression

Posters, flyers, advertisements, personal expressions and other announcements need to be approved by the Office of Communications prior to being posted. Unauthorized postings or posters in unapproved locations (see Campus Posting Policy) will be removed. Anyone found to have posted any unauthorized material, especially if it is offensive or disrespectful to any group or individual or in violation of the U.A.E. laws and/or cultural practices, will be subject to disciplinary action.

Students' Role in Institutional Decision Making

AUD considers its students to be an important part of its operations and values their opinions and suggestions related to the university. Students at AUD are involved in and participate in institutional decision-making. Students voice concerns and criticisms of AUD at the annual Student Forum, which examines all aspects of the university. Additionally, students have the right to file written concerns/suggestions related to any aspect of the university's operations through the AUD Online Student Complaint System.

Student Records Access and Release

The university has established a policy for the release of records containing information on students.

- Each student attending AUD shall have the right to inspect and review the contents of his/her education records, including grades, records of attendance and other information. Parents are not entitled to inspect and review financial or academic records of their students, unless prior written authorization from the student is on the student's file. The Consent to Release Education Records Form is signed by the student upon joining the university. A copy of the Form is available online under the Registrar's Office.
- A student's education records are defined as files, materials, or documents including those in electronic format that contain information directly related to the student and are maintained by the institution. Access to a student's education records is afforded to school officials who have a legitimate educational interest in the records, such as for purposes of recording grades, attendance, and advising, and determining financial aid eligibility.
- Students may request a review of their education records by submitting a written request to the Provost and Chief Academic Officer. The review will be allowed during regular school hours under appropriate supervision.
- Students may request that the institution amend any of their education records, if they believe the record contains information that is inaccurate, misleading or in violation of their privacy rights. The request for change must be made online <https://registrarforms.aud.edu>. Grades and course evaluations can be challenged only on the grounds that they are improperly recorded. The instructor or staff member involved will review the request, if necessary meet with the student, and then determine whether to retain, change, or delete the disputed data. If a student requests a further review, the Provost and Chief Academic Officer will conduct a hearing, giving the student a full and fair opportunity to present evidence relevant to the disputed issues. The student will be notified of the Provost and Chief Academic Officer's decision. Copies of student challenges and any written explanations regarding the contents of the student's record will be retained as part of the student's permanent record.

- Directory information is information on a student that the university may release to third parties without the consent of the student. AUD has defined directory information as the student's name, address(es), telephone number(s), email address, birth date and place, program undertaken, dates of attendance, credential(s) awarded. If a student does not want some or all of the directory information to be released to third parties without his or her consent, the student must present such a request in writing to the Registrar's Office within the term of the student's initial enrollment.
- The written consent of the student is required before personally identifiable information from education records on that student may be released to a third party, except for those disclosures referenced above, disclosures to accrediting commissions and government agencies, and other disclosures permitted by law. Students are requested to complete the Release Form as part of the admission process.
- A student who believes that AUD has violated his or her rights concerning the release of or access to his or her records may file a complaint with the University's Grievance Officer or the UAE Ministry of Education in Dubai: Phone 80051115, Email ccc.moe@moe.gov.ae (MOE Call Center)

Disclosure

Students are encouraged to share personal experiences while participating in classes at AUD. However, students must be aware that should they disclose to any AUD faculty member or staff information that may cause harm to themselves or others, faculty members and staff are required to report such information to the Deans, Associate Deans, Chairs, Provost and Chief Academic Officer, or President.

Intellectual Property

AUD seeks to maintain an environment that encourages the generation of new knowledge by its university personnel. Thus, the following section is intended to be a guideline of patent and copyright matters that are of interest to university personnel. The term "university personnel" will henceforth be used to denote faculty, staff, students and person in a "visiting appointment" position. The policy is designed to provide a mechanism for protecting certain property rights of the university and its personnel and the basis for such rights.

Definitions

Copyrights: Protection by law that covers books, periodicals, lectures, dramatic or dramatic-musical compositions, maps, works of art, drawings or plastic works of a scientific or technical nature, photographs, pictorial illustrations, labels, motion pictures and video tapes, and audio recordings. The copyrightable material need not be novel; it must only be the original product of the creator.

Invention: This term covers such items as computer software, general instructional materials (i.e. video tapes, etc.) devices, production procedures and methods, etc.

Patent: Grant by the US-Patent Office or any equivalent foreign office to an inventor of the right to exclude others for a limited time from making, using, or selling his or her invention in a specified geography. To be patentable, an invention must be novel, useful, and non-obvious.

Policy

AUD's policy affirms a commitment to the personal ownership of intellectual property rights in the works of the intellect by the individual creator, whether or not the creator worked alone or with another and if they worked privately or as part of the greater AUD community.

Intellectual property developed by university personnel will be the exclusive property of the inventor(s) or author(s) if all of the following conditions exist:

- The university has contributed nothing substantial or essential to the production and development of such intellectual property in funds, space, facilities, or time of a faculty or staff member or student;

- The intellectual property is not related or similar to any university research then in progress known to the faculty member, or to which the university is committed, and with which, in either case, such faculty or staff member or student is connected; and
- The intellectual property was developed by the inventor(s) or author(s) on their own time without any expense to the university.

It is acknowledged that there are times intellectual property is within the scope of “part” ownership of the university. “Part ownership” designates that AUD has the right to claim ownership along with the inventor/author if the following conditions exist:

- If the university has contributed with funds, facilities, materials and production of the intellectual property;
- If there is similar research already taking place within the university and the intellectual property is an extension of the existing research being developed by the university;
- If the university creates or commissions works on its own behalf, thus entering into a written agreement with authors on mutually agreeable terms; and,
- If the university grants paid release time for a project to be completed.

If such conditions occur, an agreement will be signed between the President and Provost and Chief Academic Officer (for faculty and students)/Executive Vice President (for staff) of the university and the concerned party(ies) as to the joint ownership as well as any percentage of allocation for remuneration.

Moreover, exempt from this policy and recognized as sole ownership of the author, inventor, etc. are course materials arising from preparing for courses, teaching, course notes, exams and other relevant materials. However, the university has rightful ownership over all syllabi and descriptions of courses used within its programs.

Classroom Etiquette – Online Classes

The following classroom etiquette should be followed when students are enrolled in online classes:

Courses

As a student, you should abide by the following guidelines:

- Dedicate appropriate time to learning, comparable to a normal day on campus. Even if you are not physically in class, all students are expected to connect to the class at the scheduled time and when not connected it is considered as a regular class absence. Once connected, students are expected to be present for the full class session, as they would in a regular on-campus class.
- Maintain a professional and respectful demeanor in your online classes as you would in a regular, physical classroom.
- Real-time or ‘live’ class sessions conducted via Blackboard Collaborate Ultra or Zoom require that both faculty and students have their cameras functional for the duration of the class period. Failure to have your camera turned on can result in being marked absent for the class session.
- Check Blackboard and your email regularly for information on courses, assignments, resources daily.
- If you don’t understand something related to your courses, ask your instructor.
- If you’re having some trouble within your program, reach out to your Student Advisor
- Identify a comfortable and quiet space to study/learn.
- Remember that it is forbidden for students to record AUD’s sessions or take photographs and share them on social media without permission.
 - Any issues relating to this matter will be reviewed by AUD’s Conduct Council, which could result in suspension or an Academic Warning.
 - This act is punishable with jail time or a fine under UAE IT laws.
- Engage in all learning with academic honesty.
- Remember, AUD’s code of conduct is still applicable. All academic integrity violation cases will be handled by the University Honor Council according to AUD’s policy as outlined in the student handbook.
- Submit all assignments in a timely manner and by stated deadlines.

Online Exams

- Some classes will require online exams. To ensure academic integrity, these exams will be proctored through Respondus Lockdown Browser.
 - Lockdown browser is a simple to use browser add-in to Blackboard that doesn't allow for students to access any websites / tabs/ task keys except that of the exam during the timeslot of the exam.
 - Proctoring of online exams also involves use of Respondus Monitor and/or a similar video enabled application such as Zoom.
 - Respondus Monitor is an artificially intelligent examination proctor.
 - The Artificial Intelligence component of Respondus Monitor uses a camera to monitor the room in which the student is conducting the exam.
 - Prior to the exam, you will have to film the room in which you are taking the exam including your work set-up. You will be asked to remove unnecessary things on your desktop. You also need to have a clear view of your face (no caps, any kinds of facemasks, anything that can obstruct the view of the instructor).
 - Once the exam starts, any movement and sound will be detected and reported to your instructor for revision.
 - Note: Respondus Monitor requires use of a standalone camera.
 - Respondus Lockdown Browser can be used on Windows, Mac, and iPad devices.
 - Zoom is a video conferencing tool
 - You will be asked to turn on your camera while taking the online exam; you should follow any further instructions provided by faculty. Zoom can be used in conjunction with the Lockdown Browser.
 - Students can check the following site: <https://www.aud.edu/Updates-On-COVID-19> for further information and instructions on how to use Blackboard Collaborate, Respondus Lockdown Browser and Zoom.

*A student may not opt out of turning on the camera when it is required according to the above guidelines. This is in line with AUD's academic integrity guidelines, as well as the UAE's Ministry of Education directive on ensuring academic integrity during distance learning.

Artwork Material Property Waiver Form

The American University in Dubai often commissions students, faculty, staff or freelance designers with creating artwork for the university including but not limited to catalogs, handbooks, logos, posters, flyers and brochures. This policy is in place to maintain proper archives of all commissioned artwork material and to confirm AUD's ownership of said material.

Policy

To maintain a proper archive of all commissioned artwork material and to confirm AUD's ownership of the material, the university requires that all commissioned designers sign an Artwork Material Property Waiver Form.

Protocol

All designer (AUD students, faculty, staff or freelance designers)-commissioned artwork for AUD is considered the property of AUD. The Artwork Material Property Waiver Form must be signed for any commissioned work. The Communications Office must receive a copy of all artwork material created on a CD (files should include the original artwork in Microsoft Publisher® or Adobe Illustrator®, or Adobe Photoshop®, or Adobe InDesign® or any other Adobe Suite® program with all links: pictures and fonts used). A copy of the waiver, once signed, is also to be sent to the Communications Office.

Principles Governing Student Access to Quizzes/Examinations

The following principles govern university policy regarding student access to quizzes and examinations:

- Students have the right to know their grade on each and every component that enters into the determination of their final grade for the course, as soon as their work has been graded by the instructor.
- Students have the right to review all of their graded work and discuss it with the instructor. Graded work may include homework assignments, research reports, tests, quizzes, mid-term examinations, final examinations, and any other work submitted and/or presented by the student, evaluated by the instructor and included in determining the student's final grade. It is expected that instructors will initiate this review process by taking up all graded work during the term in class and going over answers, solutions, etc., and grades assigned for each part while the students review their graded work. It is also expected that instructors will allocate sufficient time during their office hours to discuss graded work with students.

- It is a major violation of the most elementary principles of “natural justice,” a serious denial of a basic student right, and an incomprehensible failure to use students’ graded work as a device for enhancing student learning, for an instructor (1) to inform students of their grades but not allow them to review their graded exam papers, assignments, etc., or, worse still, (2) not to inform students of their grades (i.e., keep them in the dark) and not allow them to review their work after it has been graded.
- A special note on final examinations: Students have the right to see their graded final examination papers and should be allowed to exercise this right. This should be done in the instructor’s presence, and the student should return the paper to the instructor after reviewing it.
- A note on grade appeals: Students have the right to appeal a grade within one month following the assignment of the grade. Obviously, students cannot exercise this right if they are denied their right to know their grades and their right to see their graded work and discuss it with the instructor, as described previously. The latter right requires that instructors not dispose of students’ graded work in their possession for at least one month after the final grade submission date at the end of each term.

AUD Councils

The following summarizes the function and composition of those Councils, which deliberate student issues. The role of each can be found in the appropriate section of this Handbook.

The Council is composed:

- One Administrative Staff Member
- Two Full-time Faculty Members

General Statement of Philosophy on Student Conduct

AUD believes strongly in promoting the development of personal and social responsibility and also believes in a humanistic approach to discipline conducive to academic pursuits; however, AUD recognizes that its responsibility for the protection of personal and institutional rights and property is a primary focus of the disciplinary process. The administration reserves the right to develop any policy or take any action(s) deemed appropriate to maintain the safety and wellbeing of all members of the AUD community.

Conduct Integrity

AUD maintains not only high academic standards, but also expects students to maintain conduct integrity, as a responsible citizen of AUD. This means demonstrating courteous behavior and professional conduct at all times. Students are expected to maintain an exemplary level of maturity by displaying behaviors and dress that do not violate U.A.E. norms, practices, beliefs and expectations of personal conduct. AUD students are subject to all local and national laws.

AUD Dress Code Policy

The American University in Dubai, in accordance with the laws of the U.A.E., adheres to specific guidelines regarding appropriate attire. As a result, students are expected to dress properly while on campus. Inappropriate attire will not be tolerated, and violations are subject to disciplinary action.

Inappropriate attire is defined as, but not limited to:

- Tight or revealing clothing;
- Short shorts and micro-skirts;
- Low-cut tops or dresses;
- Sagging jeans or jeans with suggestive holes or markings;
- T-shirts with inappropriate logos or language; and
- Midriff-baring, open-back or halter tops.

Procedure

Those responsible for the enforcement of the Dress Code Policy are: the Security Supervisor and security staff, and the Office of Student Affairs. If students, faculty or staff determine that a student is in violation of the Dress Code Policy, they may report the information to the Office of Student Affairs.

A four-step system is in place for dealing with students who violate the Dress Code Policy.

1. Students who are deemed to be in violation of the Dress Code will be stopped by security staff. At that time, students must present their student ID for verification purposes, and must report immediately to the Office of Student Affairs. Students who refuse to or fail to present their ID to security staff and report to the Office of Student Affairs will be subject to disciplinary action, possibly including removal from campus and refusal of re-entry until all requirements are met.
2. The Dean of Student Affairs or designated Student Affairs staff will notify the student of the violation while re-iterating the Dress Code Policy. Students may be required to leave campus at any time as deemed appropriate by the Office of Student Affairs. Students will not be eligible to return to campus until he or she is wearing appropriate attire.
3. First-time violator's name(s), ID number and date of violation will be entered into the Dress Code Database Management System.
4. Repeat violators will be subject to disciplinary action in accordance with the Violations of Conduct.

AUD Smoking Policy

It is common knowledge that exposure to second-hand smoke and the use of tobacco products are significant health hazards. In order to maintain a healthy environment at AUD and to promote the prevention of illness and encourage students, staff and faculty to lead healthy lifestyles, a smoke-free campus policy has been put in place to reduce the use of tobacco products on campus. The objectives of this policy are to reduce the number of smokers on campus and to support those who wish to stop smoking; discourage freshmen students from starting the habit as university students and to raise awareness on the dangers of smoking.

“Tobacco products” include but are not limited to any lighted cigarette, cigar, pipe, midwakh, dokha, bidi, electronic cigarette or any other smoking device, along with any form of smokeless or spit tobacco such as dip, chew, or snuff.

Each and every member of the AUD community is responsible for maintaining this policy.

Procedure

Those responsible for the application of the policy are the Security Supervisor and Security Staff, Office of Student Affairs, and Human Resources Office.

Three isolated areas on campus have been designated for smokers, equipped with benches and ashtrays: behind the School of Architecture, Art and Design building, behind the School of Business Administration building, and adjacent to the School of Engineering building.

A three-step system is in place for AUD students, faculty and staff members caught smoking outside these designated areas.

AUD Students

- First time violators: the student's AUD ID card will be confiscated. The student will need to meet with the Dean of Student Affairs to discuss the violation and collect the ID card. A Disciplinary Written Warning, which will include the student(s) name(s), ID number and date of violation, will be placed in the student's file.
- Repeat violators will be subject to disciplinary action as determined by the Dean of Student Affairs, in consultation with the President.

AUD Staff and Faculty

- First time and second time violators: the employee will receive a verbal warning from the Human Resources Office.
- Third time violators: a third violation will be factored into the employee's annual performance evaluation.

Use of AUD Social Media Channels

With social media, the AUD community grows beyond the walls of the university. AUD's Facebook®, Twitter®, LinkedIn®, Instagram®, and YouTube® profiles have been created to share news and events about the university and its community. It is important that we remain respectful of the environment in which we are in, mindful of other people and constructive in our day-to-day postings. The following guidelines will keep AUD's social media profiles up to standard.

The office of Communications is the sole administrator on the AUD social media Channels, guiding the online strategy, lead generation campaigns and any news/community outreach and visibility.

The office of Communications is required to be an admin and have access to all social media accounts that operate under the name of the university or represent a school or department. These include: Administrative offices such as Career Services, Alumni, Student Affairs, Registrar, as well as the AUD schools with active social media pages.

The schools and departments with AUD social media pages are required to align with the office of Communications on the do's and don'ts of posting, social media language, type of content to be shared and visuals. The office of Communications can advise and recommend on in school strategy as well as content that must be removed.

Posting comments: While feedback and criticism are always welcome, they need to be constructive. No political, religious, ethnic, racist, commercial, sexual, alcohol and tobacco-related or potentially offensive content may be posted on AUD's social media profiles. Material deemed offensive by the administrators will immediately be deleted, and the student will be blocked from future access.

Advertising and Promotions (Anti-Spam): Some promotions and advertising pertaining to the AUD Community may be welcome but requires the approval of the administrators, Central Services and must be based on a clear understanding with the university with a defined benefit for AUD. AUD cannot encourage commercially based sales for a third party without outlining a clear benefit for the institution. Abuse on AUD's social media profiles will be considered as spam and dealt with accordingly. Advertising and promotions deemed as spam by the administrators will immediately be deleted and the person and/or company will be blocked from future access.

The full policy is available online at AUD's website www.aud.edu

Harassment and other unacceptable activities that could influence acceptance to the university, employment or personnel decisions, or would create a hostile work environment are specifically prohibited. Any member of the AUD community engaging in such harassment or other unacceptable activities is subject to immediate disciplinary action, up to and including discharge from employment or dismissal from the university.

If any student believes that he or she has been the subject of harassment or if any student is aware of or witnesses a situation that he or she believes to be based upon or involving harassment, the student must report the matter immediately to the Dean of Student Affairs. Any such reports will be immediately and thoroughly investigated. Investigations will be conducted, to the extent possible, maintaining the confidentiality of all concerned parties. Students are expected to and required to cooperate with any investigation. In no case should any student allow improper conduct to go unreported.

AUD prohibits and will not tolerate any coercion, intimidation, retaliation, interference, or discrimination against a student for reporting harassment, for filing a complaint of harassment, or for assisting in any investigation of a harassment claim. No adverse action of any type will be taken against a student for bringing a complaint in good faith under this policy. A student or employee who is found, after appropriate investigation, to have engaged in inappropriate behavior or the unlawful harassment of another student or employee, will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal. All students are responsible for helping the university ensure that all types of harassment are prevented.

Violations of Conduct

Standard List of Conduct Violations with Accompanying Disciplinary Actions

Adjudication and mediation by the Dean of Student Affairs will often resolve a conduct issue. This may involve issuance of a Disciplinary Verbal Reprimand. The Dean, in consultation with the President, may determine that the conduct violation warrants dismissal or the calling of a Conduct Council. The following summarizes possible violations and the options for disciplinary action by the Dean of Student Affairs (in consultation with the President) or the Conduct Council.

Conduct Violation	Possible Disciplinary Action(s)
Inappropriate Conduct on Campus – Level 1	Disciplinary Written Warning Disciplinary Probation
Inappropriate Conduct on Campus – Level 2	Disciplinary Written Warning Disciplinary Probation Suspension Dismissal

Listing of Penalties

Verbal Warning: May be given to a student whose conduct violates any aspect of AUD's Code of Conduct. Such a reprimand does not necessarily restrict the student in any way but does signify that he or she has been given the opportunity to conduct him or herself in a more appropriate manner and that any further violation will result in additional disciplinary action. A record of the reprimand will be placed in the student's file in the office of the Dean of Student Affairs.

Written Warning: An official written statement to a student indicating that his or her behavior is of such a nature that further disciplinary action may be necessary. A written warning becomes a permanent part of a student's academic record.

Disciplinary Probation: Requires a student to be closely monitored for a certain period of time. Any further violation of the Code of Conduct during this time period will result in a more severe penalty, which may include dismissal from the university.

Restitution (Reimbursement or Replacement): Damage to university property may require a student to pay actual repair or replacement costs. Failure to pay will result in a Conduct Registration Hold, Transcript Hold and/or additional disciplinary actions. Registration and/or Transcript Hold prevents the student from registering for the next semester or prohibit him or her from obtaining a transcript until he or she reimburses the university the costs of the damage.

Suspension: Requires a student to be separated from the university for a specific period of time and may include certain conditions that must be completed before the student is eligible to return.

Dismissal: Constitutes permanent removal from the university, without the possibility of readmission.

The Dean of Student Affairs, after consultation with other administrators within the university, reserves the right to recommend other forms of disciplinary action that are appropriate for the violation. Any disciplinary action recommended by the Dean of Student Affairs is effective immediately unless otherwise stipulated. Such actions may include:

Campus Access Restriction: Depending upon the severity of the case and the assigned penalty, students may be restricted from accessing campus resources, which includes but is not limited to: campus events, campus facilities,

Volunteer Work: A student may be required to complete a certain number of service hours on campus, commensurate with the initial penalty. This will be negotiated, approved, and monitored by the Dean of Student Affairs in consultation with offices/departments in need of volunteers.

Campus Housing: Students residing on campus may be subject to losing their housing privileges for a specified period of time, or permanently depending upon the nature of the case and the assigned penalty.

Students may consult with the Dean of Student Affairs for additional clarification or explanation of AUD's Code of Conduct.

Students who do not complete volunteer service or other disciplinary requirements in a timely fashion will be put on Conduct Registration Hold until they complete the requirements. In addition, they may be subject to further disciplinary action for failure to comply.

Conduct Proceedings

The Dean of Student Affairs is responsible for implementing the AUD Code of Student Conduct. As such, the Dean will review, investigate, and, in some instances, adjudicate alleged violations of student conduct with the primary aim of creating a conducive learning environment for students while protecting all members of the campus community.

Students are expected to conduct themselves with an exemplary level of maturity. All violations of AUD's Code of Conduct are taken very seriously and are dealt with fairly and judiciously. Certain conduct violations may be subject to the university's Conduct Council.

Notification to Students

Upon receipt of a complaint from faculty, staff, or students or an official incident report from security, the Dean of Student Affairs will notify the accused student(s) of the alleged charges, via email. Notification to a student's AUD email address of record is considered official.

Students will be informed of the alleged violation(s) of the Code of Student Conduct and they must respond by contacting the Dean of Student Affairs within 48 hours following issuance of the official notification. Students will then be required to meet with the Dean of Student Affairs or appear before the Conduct Council.

Failure to respond to the official notification from the Dean of Student Affairs will automatically disqualify students from providing personal testimony regarding their alleged violations. Additionally, failure to respond will be considered an act of non-compliance, which may result in further disciplinary action.

Note: Students who are not enrolled during the notification period will be placed on conduct registration hold and will be unable to register for courses until the alleged offenses have been processed.

Conduct Council

The Conduct Council is comprised of faculty, administrative staff, and students. It investigates alleged breaches of the AUD Code of Conduct, determines culpability, and prescribes penalties, if any. The Council operates on an ad hoc basis under the chairmanship of the Dean of Student Affairs. The Conduct Council adjudicates issues of conduct related offenses, recommends disciplinary sanctions designed to fit the nature of the offense, increases understanding of university rules and regulations, and helps students transform inappropriate behavior into acceptable behavior.

Convening of a Conduct Council hearing

The Dean of Student Affairs will investigate and gather evidence relevant to the alleged violation. Based upon the investigation, the Dean of Student Affairs or his or her designee decides whether the evidence warrants further action through a Conduct Council or standard disciplinary sanction.

Conduct Council Hearing

1. The Dean of Student Affairs or his or her designee will convene the Council and notify the student(s) in writing. Information will be provided regarding the alleged violation, and the date, time, and place of the Conduct Council hearing.
2. At the start of each Conduct Council, the Chair (the Dean of Student Affairs) will inform all members of the confidentiality of the case and their obligation to maintain discretion at all times unless in direct communication with other Council members.
3. The Chair will present a short overview of the case. The overview should contain all information and evidence pertinent to the case including: video footage, a written complaint, security report, and any other physical evidence. The Council may request experts from the university community if the evidence is too technical or difficult for the Council to interpret.
4. The suspected student(s) must appear for the scheduled hearing unless he or she has completed the Waiver of the Right to Appear Before Conduct or Honor Council. If the student encounters an unforeseen emergency, he or she must present acceptable documentation to support the emergency. If a student chooses to waive his or her rights to appear before the council, the outcome of the case may be determined by the Council or the Dean of Student Affairs, in consultation with the President.
5. Waiver forms may be obtained from the Office of Student Affairs.
6. The Council may call witnesses if members feel that their presence and testimony will provide information pertinent to the case. Character witnesses are not permitted nor are friends or family members of the suspected violator. All witnesses have the responsibility to truthfully provide information related to the case.
7. As needed, the Council will question the suspected violator(s) and witnesses involved with the case.

Findings of the Conduct Council

Following the testimony provided by the suspected violator and witnesses, the Council will deliberate and come to a decision regarding the case. The decision will include any recommended disciplinary sanctions and special conditions. All Council members will vote to reach a final agreement. The Chair will compose a letter to the suspected violator informing him or her of the council's decision and any additional recommendations. This letter may be shared with the members of the Conduct Council, the President, the Director of Central Services, the Registrar, the Housing Manager (if the student(s) housing is affected by the decision), and the Chief Financial Officer (if the decision involves any financial matters).

All letters will be kept in students' permanent file in the Registrar's Office.

Conduct Appeal

Students who wish to appeal the decision of the Conduct Council have 72 hours (three working days)* from receipt of the decision letter to complete their appeal. All appeals must be submitted via AUD email to the President.

The granting of appeals is rare. Appeals may be granted if the Conduct Council penalty was inappropriate based upon the severity of the violation, new evidence becomes available, the case was mishandled, and/or a decision was made without the testimony of the suspected violator(s) in the case of a documented emergency.

The President will respond to students' appeals in writing. A copy of the President's dated and signed response to the student(s) will be sent to the Chair of the Conduct Council. The President has the right to overturn the Conduct Council's verdict or suggest a reconvening of the council, to reexamine the case. In exceptional cases, the President will inform the Chair of the Conduct Council in writing of the decision to overturn the verdict and the reasons behind the decision.

*Holidays and extended periods during which the university is closed (such as Eid holiday, the year-end break between semesters, and Spring break) may delay the above process at all levels: Meeting with the Dean, Conduct Council hearing and appeal. In such cases, the process will resume as soon as possible upon reopening of the university and return of all university personnel involved in administration of this process.

GENERAL POLICIES

Conflict of Interest Clause

No Appeals Board member shall sit in review of any decision he or she previously rendered which comes before the Board for review. This prohibition applies to situations in which the Board's decision is being challenged and applies in situations which there may be an appearance of impropriety for a Board member to review a decision based on either direct or indirect contact with the matter in question.

Government Regulations

The American University in Dubai complies with all laws and regulations of the territorial jurisdiction in which its campus is located. Furthermore, as an American-accredited institution, AUD complies with the spirit of relevant United States legislation in so far as is possible/advisable given the cultural, historical, architectural, and legal contexts within which the university operates in the United Arab Emirates.

People of Determination/Disabilities

Non-Discrimination Statement

AUD does not discriminate against individuals on the basis of physical or mental disability and is fully committed to providing reasonable accommodations, including appropriate auxiliary aids and services, to qualified individuals with disabilities, unless providing such accommodations would result in an undue burden or fundamentally alter the nature of a relevant program, benefit, or service provided by AUD. (See p. 72 for people of determination-related information.)

Civil Rights Compliance

AUD does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, age, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, or handicap among qualified persons in the recruitment and admission of students, the operation of any of its educational programs and activities, or the recruitment and employment of faculty and staff. The university provides a means to ensure a prompt resolution of all complaints regarding violations of the stated policies and a means to ensure due process to all employees and students who believe that the university's policy of non-discrimination is being violated or that they have been victims of sexual harassment.

Drug-Free Environment

As a matter of rigorous policy, AUD prohibits the manufacture and unlawful possession, use, sale or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees on its property and at any university activity. Further information on the university's policies can be found in this Student Handbook. Any violation of these policies will result in appropriate disciplinary actions up to and including dismissal in the case of students and termination in the case of employees, even for a first offense. Violations of the law will also be referred to the appropriate law enforcement authorities. Students or employees may also be referred to abuse help centers. Information on the school's drug-free awareness program and drug and alcohol abuse prevention program may be obtained from the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs.

Policy on Academic Record Retention and Storage

In order to fulfill its commitment to the security, confidentiality and integrity of its student academic records, The American University in Dubai follows a Policy on Academic Record Retention and Storage. Details of this Policy are available in the Office of the Registrar and the Office of Institutional Effectiveness.

Health Insurance

Private health insurance covering care in the U.A.E. is mandatory for all AUD-sponsored students. In order to meet this requirement by enrolling in the AUD-sponsored health insurance plan, students are charged a non-refundable fee on their Fall semester bill covering the period September 1 through August 31.

Health History

AUD prides itself in offering quality health services. To maintain our standards and fully address the health and medical needs of our students, the AUD Health Center requires that all AUD students submit the Student Health History Form (available at the AUD Health Center and online) to the Health Center. A physician must endorse this Form.

All health information is confidential. Only the following staff members have access (as needed): President, Executive Vice President, Provost and Chief Academic Officer, and Dean of Student Affairs. All student medical records are kept under a locked filing system, and they are not released to others without the written consent (Authorization of Health Information Release) of the student or their parents/guardians.

Campus Security/Crime and Safety

Campus Security/Crime and Safety Prevention Program

AUD is concerned about the safety and welfare of its students and employees. Therefore, AUD has implemented a security policy for the protection of students, staff and faculty. This policy is in compliance with the Student Right-to-Know and Campus Security Act. AUD maintains a log of all crimes committed and reported on its campus. Information is updated annually. Updated information for the prior calendar year is made available, upon request, to all continuing students, faculty and staff each year.

Crime and Safety Precautions*

AUD is committed to providing a safe and secure environment conducive to learning. Crimes at AUD are minimal and personal safety is a major priority of the university. There are 24-hour security guards posted throughout the campus. AUD has an internal security supervisor who supervises all security operations at the university. All AUD students, guests, visitors, family members, and maintenance workers are required to present a valid ID to enter the university. Upon deposit of the ID, visitors are issued visitor badges, which they display when they are on campus. IDs are returned when visitors leave the university and turn in the visitor badges.

AUD encourages its students to be prepared and take reasonable precautions against all potential crimes and hazards. Specifically, students should:

- not leave personal belongings unattended for any length of time. This includes purses, mobile phones, notebooks, textbooks, laptop computers, book bags, money, jewelry, art supplies, clothing, and all other personal belongings. Leaving belongings unattended is an open invitation for a dishonest individual to steal. AUD will not assume responsibility for lost and stolen items;
- lock their residence hall rooms any time they leave;
- know where all fire exits are located and how to get out if exits are blocked;
- know where all fire alarm pull stations, fire extinguishers are located;
- know how to report a fire or other emergency;
- not panic in emergency situations, remain calm, and follow proper procedures.

The Director of the Health Center in cooperation with Central Services will inform registered people of determination of procedures, which apply specifically to them.

* AUD has an internal security manager who supervises all security operations at the university.

Campus Crime Reporting Procedures

AUD strives to maintain a safe and secure campus environment. Crimes at AUD are minimal, but in the event of a serious incident, the following procedures should be followed:

- Report all crimes to the Dean of Student Affairs 04-318 3580. The victim of the crime should fill out a Campus Incident Report Form, and the Dean will prepare a written report on the crime and report it to the proper authorities within the university. Every attempt will be made to handle the incident and determine the proper action within the university environment. However, depending on the nature, scope and severity of the crime, the incident may be referred to the Dubai Police;
- If the Dean of Student Affairs is unavailable, the incident should be reported to the Director of Central Services 04-318 3122. If the Director of Central Services is unavailable, the incident should be reported to the Security Manager 04-318 3502;
- If the incident occurs after working hours, it should be reported to the Security Manager 04-318 3502 who will in turn inform one of the individuals above if the location of the incident and the pertinent details;

- Campus Incident Reports with accompanying details will be kept on file in the Dean of Student Affairs office for one calendar year;
- The AUD senior administrators (President and Executive Vice President) will be notified immediately of all serious crimes by the Dean of Student Affairs or delegate; and,
- In the event that the known perpetrator of the reported crime was another AUD student, the Conduct Code as outlined in this Student Handbook will be applied. If at all possible, any and all evidence related to the crime will be preserved.

Procedures for Fire and Medical Emergencies are in Place

AUD maintains a close relationship with the Dubai Police in the event of a severe emergency or problem. For emergency situations, students are asked to call the University Hotline at 04-3183 500/04-318 3555. A security guard will get in touch with the appropriate authority or university staff member for appropriate action.

- know where all fire exits are located and how to get out if exits are blocked;
- know where all fire alarm pull stations, fire extinguishers and the nearest phones are located;
- know how to report a fire or other emergency; and,
- not panic in emergency situations, remain calm, and follow proper procedures;

The Director of the Health Center in cooperation with Central Services will inform registered people of determination of procedures, which apply specifically to them.

Emergency Procedures for Safe Use of Laboratories

- Never work alone in any laboratory or workshop where there are potential hazards.
- For dealing with minor injuries, use the first aid kits which are available in all laboratories and workshops throughout the University.
- For minor injuries, during normal working hours, contact the Health Center on Ext. 200, Room A116. If this attempt is unsuccessful, contact the University Security on Ext. 502.

Policy Governing Student Computing and Network Resources Use

The American University in Dubai provides information technology resources to faculty, staff and students for the purpose of furthering and assisting the academic goals of learning, teaching and research and for assisting in the administrative operations that support these goals. As members of the American University in Dubai community, all users have the responsibility to use computing and network resources in an effective, efficient, ethical and legal manner. Ethical standards, which apply to other university activities (Honor Code, Academic Honesty, Student Rights and Responsibilities, and all local, federal and international laws), apply equally to use of the university’s computing facilities.

Use of computing and network resources is limited to members of the American University in Dubai community. Users of these resources are expected to act responsibly to maintain the integrity of university computer and network resources. Students are responsible for reporting any activities that they believe to be in violation of this policy.

AUD computing and network resources must not be used to produce, view, store, replicate, or transmit harassing, obscene, or offensive materials. This includes, but is not limited to, material from the Internet, screen savers, etc. Improper behavior that could disrupt the computing resources may be grounds for termination of a person’s access or for other penalties deemed appropriate by AUD Administration.

Appropriate Use of Computing Facilities

AUD’s computing facilities are available to all students. Students are encouraged to use the university computing systems in an effective, efficient, ethical, and lawful manner. Violations include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Sharing of passwords with other individuals is considered a security violation. Passwords should be changed regularly;
- Downloading or copying any software without the appropriate authority from the software provider violates the terms of software licensing agreements;
- Transmitting offensive, obscene or harassing material on university’s systems is an inappropriate use of the computing facilities;
- Copying, storing, displaying, or distributing copyrighted material using university computing resources without the express permission of the copyright owner except as otherwise allowed under the copyright law, is prohibited; and,

- Playing computer games is not allowed in computing facilities and such behavior could lead to suspension of access to the computing facilities.

Student-Owned Laptop Computers

Students are permitted to use personal notebook computers on the university network in furtherance of their academic studies under the following conditions:

- Notebook computers can be connected to the university's wireless network. Students shall not disturb any university-placed computer such that it becomes disconnected from the university communications network.
- All personal computers used on campus must meet the following requirements:
- Latest antivirus software and virus definitions;
- Latest Operating System Service Packs and Software Updates.
- It is the student's responsibility to purchase, install, and maintain all software necessary to meet these requirements.
- Use of peer-to-peer file sharing software, such as Kazaa, BitTorrent, Morpheus, eDonkey or any other similar software commonly used in the illegal distribution of copyrighted materials, is prohibited.
- Any costs incurred in meeting the above conditions are the sole responsibility of the student.

Students are responsible for protecting their own computer resources. The university recommends students install and use a personal firewall.

Data Backup

It is the responsibility of students to have a backup of their data and coursework on a personal data storage medium (such as External Hard Disks, USB flash drives or CD/DVD disks).

Systems Monitoring

The university reserves the right to monitor computer and network system activities at any time. Only designated staff of Information Technology Services have authorization to engage in systems monitoring.

Privacy

All individuals are required to respect the privacy of other authorized users, including security of files, confidentiality of data, and the ownership of their own work. Nonetheless, in order to enforce the policies of the university, designated Information Technology Services staff are permitted to monitor activity on local computer systems.

Disciplinary Actions

Use of the university's computer resources is a privilege, not a right. Any violation of university computer usage policies will be investigated and may result in termination of access, disciplinary review, or other disciplinary action.

Email Services

University email services must not be used for purposes that could reasonably be expected to cause directly, or indirectly, excessive strain on computing resources or unwarranted and unsolicited interference with others' use of email or email systems. Engaging in any use that would interfere with students' and employees' work or disruption of the intended use of network resources is prohibited.

Examples of interference include but are not limited to:

- Sending or forwarding chain letters;
- "Spam," exploitation of email, list servers or similar broadcast systems for the widespread distribution of unsolicited email. Spamming is considered bad netiquette and very unethical because it not only wastes everyone's time, but also costs money; and,
- "Mail Bombing", resending the same email repeatedly to one or more recipients to interfere with the recipient's use of email.

Please use email services responsibly.

Internet Services

Students may access the Internet through computers in university computer labs, through personal laptops connected to the university's network. Student access to the Internet conforms to the laws of the United Arab Emirates, including the monitoring and filtering of Internet content. Any attempt to circumvent or disable Internet access controls set by the university or the government of the U.A.E. is a violation of university policy and will result in disciplinary action.

Student Housing/Access to the Internet

Wireless Internet service is available throughout jousting areas, including resident rooms, lounges, dining rooms and study rooms. Students are required to conform to all usage policies as defined by the university and the Service Provider. Misuse and/or abuse will result in disciplinary action.

All computers must conform to the university's policy for student-owned computers (See requirements under Student-owned Laptop/Notebook Computers). The university reserves the right to monitor or physically inspect all computers. Any computer that does not meet university IT requirements will be disconnected from network.

Students are advised to protect their own computer resources. The university recommends students install and use a personal firewall.

School of Architecture, Art and Design Student Laptop Policy

The School of Architecture, Art, and Design at AUD acknowledges laptop computers have become an integral part of the commercial industries related to the programs offered by the School. To advance computing skills required to enter and succeed in today's competitive job market, School learning objectives require all students to own a laptop by the time they begin their second year. This will greatly enhance the learning process and will address instances of limited availability of or access to AUD-supplied computers and software.

Specialized software demands of these career fields require laptops, which must meet or exceed the hardware, software, and accessories specified in the respective department checklists that follow. Policy specifications will be updated on a regular basis matching industry changes. Students will not be required to purchase new laptops when specifications change if they already have a laptop meeting previous specifications. Students are expected to use their laptops when no desktop is available in the School's facilities.

To best provide options for students to purchase laptops, the School of Architecture, Art and Design provides several solutions. Students may purchase directly from recommended vendors who offer educational prices. In addition, the School works with the university's IT Services Office and local vendors to offer several hardware options, which can be purchased with the assistance of AUD for deeper discounts. Software used by most programs in the School are available free of charge or at educational discounts to students directly from vendors or may be preinstalled through the local vendor's option.

Recommended Laptop Specifications: Architecture and Interior Design Students

All Architecture and Interior Design students are required to purchase a mobile workstation. Students use free Autodesk applications for their work and the hardware options depending on budget vary. For all options please check these Autodesk links below respective of the "main" application you use to decide on what hardware configuration to go for:

Survey Administration Policy

This policy is aimed at ensuring that surveys administered to the AUD community are well structured, organized and respect participants' privacy. Well-planned surveys and administration procedures are integral to the success of any research project.

Types of Surveys

Surveys are divided in two categories: questionnaires and interviews. Questionnaires can be individually administered using paper-and-pencil or online instruments or group administered, in which a sample of respondents is brought together and asked to respond to a structured sequence of questions. Interviews can be classified as personal interviews, telephone interviews, or email interviews.

Policy

Before a survey is administered to members of the university community, it will be evaluated by the appropriate university administrators and/or academic leaders. The approval process depends on the purpose of the surveys and the relationship between survey administrators and participants.

Survey administrators requiring official approval before administering surveys include:

On the ground floor of each hall there is a fully equipped kitchen, a student lounge, a laundry room, and a TV room. AUD has clear guidelines for what constitutes inappropriate behavior in the student housing. It is the responsibility of students to abide by these rules at all times.

The Housing Manager oversees the housing division, handles room assignments, roommate conflicts and general complaints, enforces housing rules and regulations, and offers emotional support to students, to ensure a safe, comfortable, and peaceful living and learning environment. A female and male Housing Controller are available in the residence halls to arrange for maintenance, logistics and cleaning services. A number of important rules and regulations govern the student housing. The AUD Housing Handbook contains all housing information and policies.

Resident Assistants are student leaders who work in both the residence halls and the Housing office. They report directly to the Housing Manager and assist with various duties. These duties include, but are not limited to receiving maintenance requests, recording complaints, answering questions, administering the student housing satisfaction survey, and conducting tours for prospective students and their parents. In addition, Resident Assistants report any violations of housing rules, damage to facilities and suggestions for improvements in the residence halls. Resident Assistants, working in close collaboration with the Housing Manager and Student Activities Coordinators, plan and host various housing activities and programs. All second through fourth year students are eligible to apply for this student leadership opportunity. Applications are available through the Office of Student Affairs.

General Housing Meetings

General housing meetings are held once per semester for all of AUD's housing residents. All residents have the opportunity to freely voice their concerns and ask questions. The Housing Manager and Resident Assistants facilitate the meetings.

Personal Counseling Division

The AUD Counseling Division provides professional and confidential counseling services to students in a warm and empathetic environment. This private service helps students overcome personal difficulties that may interfere with or hinder their academic success, and their personal/professional development. Some common issues that bring students to the counselor include adjusting to university life, time management issues, lack of motivation, confusion about life or career goals, identity and self-esteem concerns, relationship conflicts, eating issues, addictions, anxiety, depression or dealing with grief and loss. The Personal Counselor's role is to assess students' concerns and challenges in order to provide support and guidance. The personal counselor also works with people of determination (see p. 72 for People of Determination information).

Student Personal Counseling Services

The purpose of this policy is to establish the guidelines that govern counseling practices for students.

Policy

AUD prides itself in offering quality services to students. To maintain those standards and fully address the personal growth, psychological needs, and emotional wellbeing of our students, AUD provides counseling services. There is no fee required for students to utilize this one-to-one counseling service provided by the Personal Counselor. The Personal Counselor's role is to make an assessment and provide support and guidance for students experiencing personal problems.

Eligibility: Counseling services are available to both undergraduate and graduate students. There is no fee required for students to utilize this service. During a session with the counselor, students can talk about the problems they are facing, explore related thoughts, feelings and understand their personal resources.

Confidentiality: All communication between a student and a counselor is confidential. The confidentiality of the counseling sessions is protected by the counselor's code of ethics of the APA (American Psychological Association). All student records are kept under an encrypted and password protected online counseling system, and they are not released to others (even within the university community) without the written consent of the student. As the only exceptions, the following staff members have access (as needed): President, Executive Vice President, Provost and Chief Academic Officer, Dean of Student Affairs, Health Center Director and Housing Manager (for resident students).

Information regarding whether or not a student has been seen by a Personal Counselor cannot usually be released without student consent, and requests for this information are evaluated and answered only on a case-by-case basis.

If it becomes clear in the counseling session that there is a real danger to oneself or to others, the counselor is required by their code of ethics to break their confidentiality and inform the Dean of Student Affairs and inform a parent or guardian of the student.

Access: Students are encouraged to walk in or make an appointment with the Personal Counselor to discuss their concerns. Contact can also be made through email or phone or by going to the Administrative Assistant for Student Affairs and booking an appointment. The Counselor's office is C238.

Number of Visits: Some students may require only one visit. However, the Counselor generally recommends that the student attend four (4) to five (5) sessions. The first session will generally be one hour in length with subsequent sessions lasting fifty (50) minutes.

Referrals: The Personal Counselor provides referrals to other qualified, certified, and experienced mental health professionals equipped to aid students with psychological problems, learning disabilities, and/or other serious issues. A list of referrals is also available to students who wish to receive external counseling. In the case where the referred student would like to maintain the involvement of the Personal Counselor, the Counselor may request a copy of the report of the external visit and may follow up with the therapist regarding the student's treatment after the student signs an Informed Consent Form.

Seminars: Throughout each semester, the Personal Counselor also offers seminars and workshops on mental health education and awareness. These are designed to help students identify, understand and respond to general mental health issues.

Student Activities Division

The AUD Student Activities Division creates an inclusive community, in which students engage in a variety of social, cultural, intellectual, and leadership programs and activities. This community is developed through governance, club involvement, and civic engagement/service opportunities.

Involvement in student activities at university is an important component of student life. AUD's American educational philosophy emphasizes a well-rounded student experience. Through participation in clubs and organizations, students not only become involved in university life, but also strengthen their socialization, team-building, leadership, event planning and organizational skills. Membership in student clubs and organizations also enables students to share mutual interests with fellow students. The memories created on campus, through activities, are essential for the holistic development of university students. The Division of Student Activities aims to create and offer those opportunities for AUD students. The Student Activities Coordinator, with assistance from the Student Government Association, creates and plans numerous activities for students throughout the year. These activities, designed to be both social and cultural, include desert safaris, dhow trips, beach parties, guest lectures, dinners, international celebrations, plays, and music nights.

AUD-sponsored activities introduce students to many of the diverse social and cultural events held in local cities. A calendar of events is available on the university's website www.aud.edu.

Student Affairs Programs

Orientation

All incoming undergraduate students are required to participate in orientation activities. During orientation, Student Peer Advisors acquaint students with the campus environment, explain policies and procedures; explain AUD's Honor Code, and conduct a variety of activities to introduce the students to the university experience. Further orientation takes place throughout the year through student activities, which may include seminars, workshops, tours, and informal discussions. AUD distinguishes itself with a unique student orientation program orchestrated by AUD Student Peer Advisors. All first through third year students are eligible to apply for this student leadership opportunity. Applications are available through the Office of Student Affairs.

AUD Signature Global Seminars

An exciting opportunity exists for students at AUD to earn academic credit toward their degree by participating in AUD-sponsored courses abroad. Previously offered under the name International Study Tour, Global Seminar destinations have included New York, Paris, Milan and Florence. A student may only receive three credit hours toward graduation for one global seminar. In order to register for a second global seminar, a student must obtain the written approval of the Dean of their school. Academic credit will be granted and a grade assigned for the second global seminar, but will not count toward fulfillment of degree requirements.

Withdrawals from Global Seminars are not permitted. AUD Signature Global Seminars carry the course code CABR. Professional Elective credit for global seminars may be granted subject to assessment and approval by the head of the academic unit in which the student is enrolled and the Provost and Chief Academic Officer, if the travel itinerary, the assignments and learning outcomes sufficiently justify granting Professional Elective credit.

Students taking courses abroad are evaluated by a letter grade.

Students who represent AUD on an intercollegiate sports team must be able to balance academics with the demanding schedule of training and competition. Team members must understand that practices and games are held in the evening. Students who schedule courses starting at 7:00 p.m. have to communicate with their coaches to remain active on the team, because attending practices is mandatory.

Club Sports

AUD Athletic Clubs are designed for AUD faculty, staff, alumni, and students who wish to enjoy social interaction in a sporting environment. Sports Clubs at AUD are organized and managed by students. The Athletics Division offers guidance and support to students who want to start new athletic clubs. Students who have ideas for clubs must be ready to take on the challenge of building members and organizing play. Athletics clubs that have been organized in the past include the bowling club, the pool club, the women's cricket club, the martial arts club, the table-tennis club, and the American Touch football club.

Drop-in Sports

AUD athletic and recreation facilities are open to all AUD students, alumni, and faculty and staff and their families. All facilities are available during normal working hours of the university and in accordance with the campus-wide curfew and sports teams' practice and competition hours. A schedule of operating hours can be obtained from the Athletics Division.

Intramural Sports

Intramural sports at AUD are organized every semester. Specific dates and times are announced by the Athletics Division at the beginning of each semester. Participation is limited to AUD students. Traditionally, the Athletics Division has organized intramural games in basketball, cricket, soccer, table tennis, tennis and volleyball.

Usage of AUD Sport Facilities

Indoor courts and soccer fields are strictly for the usage of AUD Athletes.

Residential halls weight rooms (Gyms) are for the exclusive usage of students living in the residential halls.

AUD Athletics Policy for Excused Absences

Higher Education Sports Federation Tournaments).
- Student-athletes are expected to notify their instructors as soon as they are aware they will be missing a class due to a status approved athletic competition.

The list should include the student's classes that were missed, the athlete's name, date and time of the game, location of game, and the coach's signature.

- The Provost and Chief Academic Officer will issue the official excused absence to all relevant parties. Post-event excused absences will not be granted.

At the discretion of the Office of Academic Affairs, absences incurred due to participation in university-sponsored activities or sports tournaments will not figure in the calculation of a student's total absences.

STUDENT CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

Involvement in student organizations provides the opportunity to make new friends and share mutual interests with fellow students. The student activities program strengthens students' socialization skills and provides encouragement to those who are making a transition to university life. AUD sponsored activities introduce students to many diverse social and cultural events and intellectual experiences.

Student organizations are responsible for the conduct of all persons at their own sponsored university-related functions. All students and guests must conform to the U.A.E. law. The Student Conduct Code contained in this Handbook applies to all student activities on or off campus. Additional, detailed, and/or current activity and club rules and regulations are available in the Division of Student Activities. Each organization has the responsibility to take all reasonable steps to prevent any infraction of the university rules and U.A.E. laws related to the activities of the organization. Any individual/group whose conduct is in violation of the Student Code of Conduct will be subject to disciplinary action. Such action may include suspension or dismissal of individuals from a particular activity or club.

The university has authority over all student organizations and activities. To provide for the efficient use of AUD's buildings and facilities and to protect the integrity and reputation of the university, student organizations must complete an online request at least two to four weeks prior to any event, depending on the size and scale of the event. Prior approval for use of AUD facilities is required. This procedure is done in conjunction with the Division of Student Activities.

AUD's various clubs and organizations are encouraged to communicate their club events and activities through various means such as the Student Affairs Calendar on the university website, the Electronic Notice boards and bulletin boards throughout the campus. Posters and other marketing instruments must be approved by the Student Activities Coordinators and placed in appropriate locations around campus. Please see pp. 30-31.

Student Clubs/Organizations

All AUD students have the right to be a member of any organization. For a full listing of student clubs/organizations, please refer to the Student Affairs section of the AUD website.

Cultural Clubs

The AUD community is incredibly diverse. With over 100 nationalities represented on campus, AUD's Cultural Clubs play a unique role in fostering tolerance, understanding, and appreciation within the university community. Cultural Clubs celebrate the traditions, history, and heritage of the various racial and ethnic groups at AUD through activities such as lectures, exhibitions, poetry sessions, fashion shows, and song and dance performances.

Performance Clubs

AUD Performance Clubs provide students with an opportunity to explore new interests and hobbies or to refine an already established skill. These clubs often perform productions for the AUD community and the public at large.

Special Interest Clubs

The Special Interest Clubs of AUD include everyone from the adventure enthusiasts to the civic-minded student. These clubs provide a variety of outlets for students to explore their interests, get involved in their community, make a difference in the world, and have a little fun along the way.

Departmental Clubs

AUD Departmental Clubs serve as professional organizations that address the special needs and interests of students in specific areas of study. They encourage members to explore their interests and talents and organize major specific activities such as lectures, seminars, professor's lunches, competitions, exhibitions, workshops and field trips. The clubs also serve as a liaison between the student body and faculty members of each department.

Chapters/Associations

Students may also form clubs or organizations directly with the Administrative Offices at AUD (referred to as "Chapters" or "Associations") in which they complement the mission and goals of the respective offices. Such organizations are overseen by the Administrative Office initiating this effort, with an allocated budget through that office, and hence do not receive a budget from the Student Affairs Office. This organization will serve as a member of the student affairs club community at large, but will not follow the Clubs and Organization guidelines listed in this section, but will follow a special club application form (that will also include a submission of its constitution and club guidelines), to be approved by the Administrative Office in charge, and is then reviewed and approved by the Dean of Student Affairs and the President of AUD respectively, before its final formation. It is part of the duties of the Administrative Offices to report all activities of the club to the Student Activities Coordinator on a semester basis to help keep the Student Affairs Office up to date on all student's activities across campus. For questions about the formation of such organizations, visit the Student Activities Coordinator for further guidance.

This procedure is done with assistance from the Offices Communications and Central Services.

All invitations to guest speakers for various events and activities (classes, conferences, seminars, workshops, etc.) require prior approval from the Provost and Chief Academic Officer and the Communications Office, both for reasons related to the U.A.E. Ministry of Education regulations and for maintaining internal records on activities and events.

After the event, clubs should submit the Event Report Form, available from the Division of Student Activities. This information is needed in order to establish a record of the event's success and identify areas of improvement, which will help establish club integrity and history at AUD.

In order for clubs to remain active at the end of an academic year, each organization's new leadership committee must complete the Club Commitment letter from the Division of Student Activities.

All club forms should be submitted electronically by a student club officer and submitted to the Student Activities Coordinators by email at saffairs@aud.edu, or in person. All the previously mentioned forms are available on the website.

Security Guard Policy

The Office of Central Services and the Office of Student Affairs work together to ensure that events are safe. The security guard policy is nonnegotiable. Clubs have the right to work with outside security companies, but this must be cleared through the Director of Central Services and the Student Activities Coordinators. Clubs may be required to obtain additional security guards for their event depending on the type of event and projected attendance. The Office of Central Services maintains rate charges for security guards. The Student Activities Coordinators work in cooperation with the Office of Central Services which will finalize all security arrangements. Club leaders must provide complete information regarding the event.

Club Advisors

Advisors have important roles in the development and growth of student organizations, serving as a vital link between the university and the students. Significant interaction with faculty and staff along with involvement on campus, increases student learning both inside and outside the classroom. A significant way to interact with students is to advise a club/organization.

Advisors serve as valuable resources, mentors, and role models for students, particularly in the areas of leadership, communication, organization and personal growth. They provide continuity and stability to a group whose officers and membership are continually changing.

The university requires that all campus-recognized clubs have an official Club Advisor. The Club Advisor must be a full-time AUD faculty/staff member who is willing to provide support and guidance to the club. Club Advisors are volunteer full-time faculty and staff members who, out of personal interest and dedication, give of their time and talent to promote and support extracurricular programs at AUD.

Responsibilities of a Club Advisor

It is the duty of a Club Advisor to maintain productive close contact with the club officers and members, providing support and leadership when necessary.

Advisors are strongly encouraged to:

- Be aware of the mission, goals, and purposes of the club and help the club represent their interest on campus;
- Encourage creativity; steer the club in the appropriate direction with interesting events or activities;
- Be available to sign appropriate official university forms;
- Instill teamwork, cooperation, creativity, and collaboration in the club members;

- Attend club elections during the Spring semester, and attend the first meeting of the club after the elections or after a new semester has started;
- Attend regular meetings of the club, whenever possible;
- Have an awareness of and attend all club events/activities;
- Monitor club morale and activity and, if need be, speak with the Student Activities Coordinators to rectify or improve any unsatisfactory situation in those areas;
- Make every effort to ensure that officers are taking minutes of every meeting and are providing the Club Advisor and the Student Activities Coordinators with copies of all minutes;
- Be familiar with university policies and procedures relating to Clubs and Student Organizations;
- Report concerns regarding inactivity, abuse and/or violation of university policies to the Student Activities Coordinators;
- Remain in the loop and be informed regarding sponsorship, organization, planning and carrying out of events;
- Attend club events in order to show support and camaraderie; and,
- Ensure that the club president submits monthly financial statements that outline all the club's outstanding expenditures.

Policy for Changing Club Advisors

If a club's student leaders feel the need to change the club's faculty/staff advisor, the Student Activities Coordinators should be informed prior to the new advisor being approached or the old advisor being asked to step down from his or her position. The students have the right to choose their Club Advisor.

The process for changing a Club Advisor:

- Inform the Division of Student Activities of the intention to change the advisor.
- Send a written explanation of the intention and the rationale behind the decision to the Student Activities Coordinators.
- Once the proposed change is approved, the new Club Advisor should meet with the Student Activities Coordinator in order to become informed of the club's activities and nature.

Any issues or concerns from the clubs, its members, events, or its advisor(s) should be addressed to the Student Activities Coordinators.

AUD Student Leadership

AUD is pleased to offer a number of leadership groups for students. Through these leadership groups, AUD students can develop their leadership, management, and public relations skills through programs and trainings provided by the Student Activities office under the Student Affairs department.

Student Peer Advisor (PAs)

Student Peer Advisors assist in all student orientation programs. AUD's Peer Advisors welcome new students and their parents to AUD and facilitate the transition of new students into the academic, social, extracurricular and cultural dimensions of the AUD educational experience. Peer Advisors act as group facilitators during AUD's orientation programs and acquaint new students with campus activities, facilities, rules, procedures and policies.

Peer Health Educators (PHEs)

Peer Health Educators are trained students who assist other students to make healthy choices. The group helps create positive social norms and lays the foundation for a positive campus environment. Members of PHE work closely with professionals, serving as a resource for guidance, training, and referral.

Resident Assistants (RAs)

AUD Resident Assistants (RAs) work as administrative links between residents and the Housing Division. RAs help residents with personal problems, roommate conflicts and other housing related issues. RAs also keep the Housing Division advised of residents' concerns and/or issues. They play a major role in presenting programs that provide housing residents with a variety of educational, cultural, recreational, and social activities.

Sports Team Captain

A sports team captain is a student leader that promotes sportsmanship and leads their team to success and recognition through motivation, competition and successful bonding. This leader leads by example, has a passionate belief in team spirit, has the ability to handle conflicts and works well under pressure; this leader is someone who is fair, professional and responsible towards his team members, and most importantly someone who is knowledgeable of the rules of the games and AUD policy and procedures.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Government Association (SGA) serves as a liaison between university administration and students and plays an active role in planning and coordinating student activities. Students have a voice in the governance of the university through the SGA. The SGA is recognized as the official representative voice of the student body at the American University in Dubai. Students can freely and openly express their views to SGA officers who will ensure appropriate follow-up. The primary commitment of the SGA is to provide responsible and equitable student leadership and to mirror the opinions and concerns of all segments of AUD's multinational student body. The SGA attempts to motivate students to participate in campus life and form a close-knit interdisciplinary, multinational student community at AUD.

The SGA is composed of executive and representative members. All students at AUD are eligible for membership in SGA, however, only full-time students with a minimum CGPA of 2.5 can hold a SGA office. Specialized committees are created to focus on particular tasks. Regularly scheduled meetings are held throughout the academic year. The primary SGA responsibilities include: representing students' interests to the AUD administration, supporting the Student Activities Coordinators in the running of campus activities, assuming financial responsibility for SGA funds and financial records, operating the SGA Bookstore, and promote the AUD Honor and Conduct Codes.

In appreciation of their voluntary role as being student leaders at AUD, students are nominated to take part in the Student Leadership Training Program that takes place throughout each academic year. This program targets existing student leaders with the purpose of empowering and shaping them to become future leaders not only at AUD, but also at their communities and vocations later on.

Leaders are required to attend a one-hour training session per month throughout the entire academic year and will receive a certificate of completion by the AUD President and the Dean of Student Affairs upon the achievement of the Leadership Program.

- All SGA officers must be enrolled as full-time students at AUD throughout the academic year (Fall and Spring semesters) and must remain in good academic standing throughout their office term.
- If an officer's GPA falls below the established guidelines they will be removed from their official position by Executive Order and may be considered for a member-at-large position.

Article 7 – Warnings

The SGA works on a three-point annual warning system. Each officer is expected to follow the rules of the association and to abide by his or her responsibilities as defined in the relevant job profile. Those who fail to fulfill their responsibilities and obligations are given warnings by the Student Activities Coordinators according to the following system:

First Warning

The President of the SGA/club would have a verbal warning with the officer. If the problem continues then a second warning will take place.

Second Warning

A written warning is issued via email to the student's and/or Student Club Advisor through the AUD email address. Probation will be in effect.

Third Warning

The officer is dismissed in writing from the position and may be considered for a member-at-large position. Dismissal is approved by both the Student Activities Coordinators and the Dean of Student Affairs. Warnings are sent via email to the student's AUD email address, and via postal mail to the student's official address on file in the Registrar's Office.

Please note that three warnings result in termination and a forfeiture of SGA recognition.

Article 8 – Resignation

The SGA President, upon wishing to resign from office, must submit a letter of resignation to the SGA Advisor(s) and the SGA Vice President. The letter must be submitted two weeks prior to the actual date of resignation. All other resignations must be submitted in writing to the SGA President with copies to the Student Activities Coordinator at least one week in prior to the actual date of resignation. If there is an opening in one of the key officer positions (this includes the positions of President and Vice President), an election to fill the positions will be held within two weeks after the resignation. The Vice-President will stand in as the President of the SGA between the former President's time of resignation or dismissal and the reelection time.

If an individual who holds an SGA position other than the President or Vice President, resigns, the remaining officers will appoint an individual to serve in the vacant position for the remainder of the term and seek approval of the appointee by a majority vote of the official SGA officers and representatives (not including Members-at-large). If a decision cannot be reached, the position will be opened to the general student body, and a campaign will be conducted.

Any SGA member resigning from a position cannot be considered for another elected position. Resigning members may only assume the post of member-at-large status and may not participate as a candidate in any future elections.

Article 9 – Removal from Office

SGA members may be removed from office according to the three-phase warning system. As noted in Articles 6 and 7, warnings are issued for a variety of reasons that may include unexcused absences from official SGA meetings, non-performance and/or non-participation in SGA events.

The Student Activities Coordinators will officially communicate the removal decision to the SGA President or Vice President, who should promptly call for an extraordinary meeting of the SGA remaining members to ratify the "Removal from Office" decision.

Two thirds of the SGA membership vote are required for ratification of the removal decision. Written notification will be sent to the party in question within 24 hours of the SGA extraordinary meeting.

Members may also be removed by Executive Order, from the Division of Student Activities, and with the approval of the Dean of Student Affairs.

SGA officers may be removed from office for violations of AUD's Honor and Conduct Codes, and Housing Rules. Procedures for Honor and Conduct Councils are outlined in this Handbook.

A full description of AUD's Housing Rules and the violation points system is included in the AUD Housing Brochure. Should students be dismissed from AUD housing for conduct, they will also be removed from their SGA office. Appeal processes for both Honor and Conduct Council decisions will also be followed.

Officers can also be removed from the SGA by Executive Order if their GPA falls below the minimum required level outlined in their position requirements.

Article 10 – Annual Student Forum

The AUD Student Forum is designed, executed and managed by the AUD Student Government Association. The AUD Student Forum is traditionally held during the Spring semester. The Student Forum provides a means for collecting student feedback about issues at AUD. These include general academic issues that are not specific to a certain department and general nonacademic issues. General surveys, which review all issues, related to sports, residence halls, student activities, general academic issues, and general non-academic issues are also distributed prior to the forum. The Director of Institutional Effectiveness provides the SGA members with results of the AUD Student Survey. These results are coupled with the results from the SGA surveys and together are used to create the presentation for the AUD Student Forum.

Student Forum Procedures

- Several weeks in advance of the Forum, SGA members distribute a survey that is designed to elicit information regarding student perception of AUD academic and non-academic issues.
- A general advertising campaign is conducted to create an awareness of the Student Forum among the student body. Advertising is varied and include posters, flyers, handouts, notices in electronic newsletters, and informational brochures. It is the responsibility of the SGA to ensure that all members of the campus community are invited and to solicit student participation.
- Two weeks before the AUD Student Forum, the SGA members meet with the Director of Institutional Effectiveness to review the results of the annual AUD Student Surveys. Following this meeting, an SGA officer prepares a presentation of the survey results for the Senior Administration.
- The presentation is shared with the Student Activities Coordinators, and a meeting is scheduled with the Senior Administration.
- The responses of the Administration to the issues raised in the survey are gathered at that meeting and via email following the meeting. These responses are included in the presentation shown at the Forum.
- The presentation is created by two assigned SGA members and shared with the Student Activities Coordinators one week prior to the Forum. The Student Activities Coordinators will share the presentation with the Dean of Student Affairs and the Senior Administration prior to the Forum.
- The SGA Officers and Representatives begin the AUD Student Forum with an overview of the issues that are of concern to the students. The presentation will feature the responses provided by the Senior Administration prior to the Forum. Following this presentation, the President, Provost and Chief Academic Officer, and Executive Vice President, will respond to open questions.
- The Student Activities Coordinators takes minutes of each forum. These minutes are shared with the AUD community following the forum.

 These By-Laws have been adapted and inspired by SGA by-laws of several American universities.*

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

MBRSCPOST

The Mission of the online magazine is to inform and engage the larger AUD community and to serve as public forum for topics of interest to all. The focus of the MBRSC Post is issues related to campus life, the AUD educational experience and the local and international arts, culture and media scene. The MBRSC Post is published in both English and Arabic editions. It is produced by the MBRSC Journalism students while being overseen by the Journalism professors.

HEALTH CENTER

Mission

The AUD Health Center promotes, improves, and maintains a healthy campus environment by providing accessible, high-quality care, health supervision, and educational programs, which encourages students, faculty, and staff to preserve their overall well-being.

Goals

- To promote the prevention of illness and the well-being of students and staff;
- To identify and contribute to health education programs for students and staff;
- To provide advice, information, and guidance to the university community on health matters through the use of multi-media communications, in addition to face-to-face dialogue with specialists who participate in health days;
- To support students with medical conditions (accommodations for people of determination); and,
- To create needs-based workshops for students.

Health Services

Health services are available 24 hours a day. The Health Center is open weekdays from 8:00 a.m. – 8:00 p.m. (during Summer I and II from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.). After working hours, and during weekends, emergency health services are provided by staff nurses who reside on campus and are on call. For any medical emergency, student should call the UNIVERSITY HOTLINE: 04-3183 500 or 04-3183 555. Security will contact the nurse on duty. Two first aid rooms, located in both the female and male housing, are equipped to provide emergency treatment for housing students after working hours. First Aid Guides are posted in all residence hall rooms, the library, adjunct rooms, the main reception, at all the security guard locations, and in all the engineering laboratories.

Health services are available for the entire AUD community: students, faculty, staff, and families living on campus. Services include treatment for minor health emergencies and conditions, dispensing medication providing individuals with medical referrals, and offering information on health-related issues. Preventive medicine is also emphasized at AUD.

The Health Center promotes health awareness and education programs throughout the academic year including but not limited to: nutrition and eating disorders, blood drives, drugs and narcotics awareness, sexually transmitted illnesses, anxiety and stress management, smoking, skincare, health hazards, vision disorders, and other topics based on student's needs.

Newly enrolled students are required to complete and submit a Health History Form, endorsed by a licensed physician, to the Health Center. If students fail to comply with this requirement, they will be placed on registration hold for the subsequent semester. For the best care, students should make sure that their health records are current and up-to-date for the AUD Health Center.

Enrolled students with medical problems or disabilities, who may require care or restriction of their campus activities, must submit to the Health Center Director an up-to-date medical report from their family physician describing their conditions, restrictions, and special requirements.

AUD offers a private health insurance plan for students who do not have any medical coverage; details and information related to the insurance are available on the AUD website.

All health-related documents, reports, and information are kept confidential in the AUD Health Center. Student's health information is not released to those not involved in the student's immediate care without his or her written permission. Students may complete the Authorization for Disclosure of Health History Information Form for information sharing as necessary. Student's health forms are included in the AUD Application for Admission, and may be printed from the AUD website, or collected from the AUD Health Center.

Blood testing for residence visas is facilitated through the AUD Health Center. This service is offered only to students and employees sponsored by the university.

AUD Health Center does not provide excuses for missed class attendance.

People of Determination

People of Determination Support Services

The American University in Dubai is committed to providing reasonable accommodations and equal access to university programs and activities for people of determination with documented disabilities. A reasonable accommodation is one that is consistent with academic standards of the university and does not require substantial course or program alteration. The Health Center welcomes and encourages students with disabilities to identify themselves and to seek access to needed accommodations.

To ensure that accommodations are provided in a timely fashion, AUD encourages students to submit their requests in advance of the start of any coursework for which the accommodation is requested.

Accommodations for People of Determination

Academic support accommodations that are provided to people of determination based on their condition's limitations and specialist's recommendations.

People of determination can suffer from a physical, mental, or learning impairment/condition or disability that affects his/her lifestyle, limits one or more major life activities, and requires special accommodations.

- Physical conditions like: Diabetes, Heart problems, Epilepsy, Cancer, and others.
- Mental conditions like: Anxiety, Depression, Asperger's Syndrome and others.
- Learning disorders like: ADD/ADHD, Dyslexia, and Dyscalculia.

Accommodation Request Process for People of Determination

In order to request an accommodation, students must take the following actions:

1. Disclose his/her special condition via the Student Health History Form;
2. Provide the AUD Health Center with a medical report of his/her condition, signed by a doctor. In situations regarding students with psychological issues, a copy of any mental health reports will be given to the Personal Counselor;
3. Meet with the Health Center Director, and the Personal Counselor (for mental-health related cases) to evaluate his/her needs and level of support required, if any;
4. Sign the Special Accommodation Request Form (SARF) following the intake and assessment completed by the above-mentioned staff, to ensure that he/she understands the services being provided and the notification process as it relates to the academic units. This includes providing students with guidelines regarding the confidential nature of their file(s);
5. Meet with the Health Center Director or Personal Counselor to assess any academic support needed in terms of course load and course combination;
6. A copy of the Special Accommodation Request Form will be emailed to students' instructors, and additional copies will remain in the Health Center and with the Personal Counselor. After receiving this form, the instructor should meet with the student privately to discuss applying these accommodations. The instructor can discuss any concerns about applying these accommodations with the Health Center Director or the Personal Counselor; and,
7. If a student has been diagnosed with a condition after admission to AUD, the student may request assistance at a period not less than two weeks before midterms or final exams, and will be asked to follow the procedures as outlined above. Application of SARF is not retroactive.

In cases where students have missed classes, a midterm, or an exam, the student must provide a medical note from a doctor/hospital, which will be verified and approved by the Health Center Director or the Personal Counselor (for mental-health). The instructor will be notified by the above-mentioned staff member(s), as needed.

Students who refuse to benefit from the services/facilities provided through the Special Accommodations Request Form (SARF) or wish to discontinue their application during their academic stay, must sign the Special Accommodations (SA) Waiver Form in the presence of the Health Center Director and Personal Counselor.

Confidentiality

The student is not obligated to disclose their condition or present any medical documentation or absence note to the instructor as this is considered confidential information privy to the Health Director and Personal Counselor. The Health Center Director will notify the student's professors of the legitimate medical documentation.

All medical files remain confidential with the exception of relevant faculty and staff being notified if they are expected to provide accommodations.

All communications between Health Center staff and a student automatically considered a "patient" is confidential, however, the Health Center Director is obliged to break confidentiality in these situations: if at risk of self-harm, at risk of harming someone else, or court ordered to release information.

The medical documentation does not excuse the student from class. A final decision on how to proceed remains at the instructor's discretion.

ACADEMIC INFORMATION AND POLICIES

AUD catalogs are comprehensive in their treatment of academic information, policy, curriculum and degree requirements. It is the student's obligation to become familiar with the relevant sections of these publications. In the interest of awareness and understanding, information and several key policies are repeated (and in some cases, expanded upon) in this Handbook.

Learning Environment Preservation

All AUD faculty, staff, and students are expected to create and maintain a learning environment committed to an effective learning. Any behavior and/or events determined to be detrimental to success in any AUD-related academic pursuit, at any location where the AUD learning process takes place, are prohibited. This includes, but is not limited to, the conduction of unauthorized tours of AUD facilities; bringing unauthorized visitors, e.g., children, friends, or other family members, to the campus or any location where the AUD learning process takes place; and usage of cell phones, radios, or radio headsets, especially in the campus library, classrooms, team rooms or any location where the AUD learning process takes place. Specifically, cellular phones and beepers must be turned off during class. A warning is issued for the first failure to respect the rights of classmates. A second failure to follow this rule may result in a penalty to the student, and this penalty is at the discretion of the instructor. AUD requests that all faculty members adhere to this rule.

Unless approved by the President, Executive Vice President, or the Communications Office, unauthorized visitors are not permitted in AUD classrooms, team rooms, studios, non-instructional areas, or any location where the AUD learning process takes place.

Authorized visitors, those visitors approved by the President or delegate, are not allowed past the designated reception area without an official escort. It is the responsibility of AUD faculty, staff, and students to meet their authorized visitors in the designated reception area at a prearranged time. No authorized visitors are to be left unsupervised by their escorts at any location where the AUD learning process takes place, including, but not limited to, libraries, cafes, or lounges. Disciplinary action may be taken should a violation of this provision occur.

AUD is not responsible or liable for injuries or harm caused by the intrusion of unauthorized or unsupervised visitors on AUD campus facilities, at official AUD functions, or at any location where the AUD learning process takes place.

Academic Advising/Registration

Students are advised by their assigned Academic Advisor housed in the Office of Student Affairs beginning their first term at AUD.

All undergraduate students (up to the completion of 90 credit hours), must receive advising and obtain authorization to register from their Academic Advisor. However, Engineering Students are advised and must obtain prior approval from their Academic Advisor throughout their residency at AUD. Moreover, students returning from suspension are to be advised and should receive prior approval from their assigned Academic Advisor throughout their residency at AUD, irrespective of the CGPA attained subsequent to their return from suspension.

With the exception of candidates in Engineering, upon completion of 90 credit hours, students no longer need to obtain an Advisor's approval in order to register.

Students are encouraged to maintain close contact with their Advisor during their time at AUD. Advisors provide information and perspective related to academic policy and concerns, specific course related problems/issues and other academic professionally related development. However, because students are expected to assume responsibility for program planning and course selection ultimately the responsibility for fulfilling degree requirements rests squarely with the student. They are required to become intimately familiar with the various program requirements and necessary requisite coursework and sequencing.

The basic tasks of the university's academic advising program are to help students identify and achieve their academic goals and to become self-directed learners and decision-makers.

An Advisor will:

- help the student navigate the academic and administrative processes and programs of the university;
- aid the student in understanding standards and requirements and offer a perspective on the likelihood of success in certain areas of study;
- engage the student in discussions on educational and career objectives and how they relate to current or expected courses of study;
- assist the student in formulating a course of study after giving advice about courses; and,
- serve as a contact for referral to other campus resources;

A student should:

- be proactive and search out information needed for course scheduling, program planning, and successful completion of all graduation requirements;
- gather academic and career information needed to be successful;
- learn about the policies, procedures, and rules of AUD;
- come to advising sessions well prepared with questions and relevant materials and forms;
- listen carefully and follow procedures;
- ask questions and monitor their own academic progress; and,
- Initiate contact with their advisor as needed.

Responsibility for advising graduate students rests with the Graduate Program Director or designate.

Advising and Registration Operational Plan

AUD undergraduates with less than 90 credit hours (undecided students; B.A.I.S., B.B.A., B.C.I.S., B.Arch., and B.F.A. candidates) and candidates for the Civil, Computer, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering degrees – regardless of credit hours completed – are automatically placed on Advising Hold at the beginning of each term to ensure that they meet with their academic advisors. Students are required to clear all holds, including the Advising Hold, in order to have access to online registration.

Online Registration

The Office of the Registrar is responsible for overseeing the registration process. Registration for all students is completed online. Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors are assigned to specific registration periods. The registration dates and deadlines are published online and can be accessed as follows: www.aud.edu> Registrar> Course Schedule & Registration Deadlines.

Students with overdue library materials, incomplete admissions files, or an outstanding balance due to the university, will not be allowed to register until the irregularity is remedied.

Students are reminded that regardless of the mode of registration, they are responsible for fulfillment of their degree requirements.

Academic Integrity

Academic Honesty

Students are expected to demonstrate academic integrity by completing their own work, assignments and assessments. Effective planning and progress must be accomplished for students to be successful in their degree program of study.

Submission of work from another person, whether it is from printed sources or someone other than the student; previously graded papers; papers submitted without proper source citation; or submitting the same paper to multiple courses without the approval of all instructors involved can result in a failing grade or be reported to the Dean, Associate Dean or Chair for appropriate sanction or disciplinary actions. All students are expected to maintain the standards as set forth in the Code of Student Conduct and Statement on Academic Honesty.

AUD Honor Code Pledge

The administration and faculty of AUD believe strongly in the concept of an honor system. This belief is based on the knowledge that in competitive professional environments, greater emphasis is placed on originality and integrity of ideas and work. With the freedom to pursue an AUD degree comes the obligation to abide by the rules of the AUD Honor Code. All members of the AUD academic community, including faculty, students, and administration, are expected to assist in maintaining the integrity of the university, which includes reporting incidents that violate the Statement on Academic Honesty. To this end, all students are asked to sign and adhere to the honor pledge that reads as follows:

“As a student of The American University in Dubai, I pledge that all tests taken by me and that all work submitted by me will be original and solely the results of my own efforts. Furthermore, as a student and member of the academic community of The American University in Dubai, I am bound to uphold standards of personal integrity and honesty and to accept my personal, academic and professional responsibilities in the community.*”

Specifically, I pledge:

- to adhere to the university’s policy on cheating and plagiarism;
- not to lie or steal in my university undertakings;
- not to evade the truth or deceive;
- to inform the appropriate faculty member and Dean, Associate Dean, Program Director or Chair of any and all cases of academic dishonesty and violations of the Honor Code.”

Definitions

Cheating: is using or attempting to use unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise. It includes the following:

- For both in-class and out-of-class academic exercises, using books, notes, materials, calculators, internet, Intranet or, communication or collaboration with others which has not been authorized by the instructor.
 - Examples include but are not limited to the following: mobile phones, tape recorders, texts, friends, relatives, tutors and others.
- Having someone else take an examination in your place.
- During an examination, copying from another student’s examination paper, facilitating other students’ copying, or allowing another student to copy from one’s own paper.
- Presenting or handing in a paper, sketch, artwork, project, take-home exam, costume, photographs or any other work written, prepared or completed in full or even in part by someone else.
- Unauthorized access to or use of examinations, tests or quizzes.
 - If a student inadvertently sees an exam, it is his or her responsibility to report this immediately to the instructor or relevant Dean, Associate Dean or Chair.
- Fabrication - Intentional and unauthorized falsification or invention of any information or citation in an academic exercise; for example, listing sources that were not used in the academic exercise
 - Making up the names of books, page numbers, data, charts, tables, etc.
- Using an essay, paper, artwork, sketch, etc. for one course to satisfy the requirements of another without the permission of the instructors involved. This includes repeating the same course and handing in work completed during the previous unsuccessful attempt. (If a student wishes to use a previously completed assignment as a starting point for additional research and development, he or she must receive the approval of both instructors and provide them with a copy of the original assignment.)
- Handing in the same assignment simultaneously in two or more courses without the full knowledge and approval of all instructors involved.

Plagiarism: is the use of someone else’s ideas, words, projects, artwork, phrasing, sentence structure or other work without properly acknowledging the ownership (source) of the property (item). Plagiarism is dishonest because it misrepresents the work of someone else as one’s own.

Plagiarism takes many forms and includes the following:

- Using someone else's words without putting these words in quotation marks.

Original version: On this small planet where the actions of people across the globe have a profound influence on our daily lives and our futures, we must understand something about the lives of people across oceans and the way they view the world, if we are to successfully interact with them. This is the mission of anthropology: to understand the differences and similarities, the understanding, expectations, and desires of peoples living in a wide variety of conditions, circumstances and environments.

Student version: As the world is such a small place our lives and futures are heavily influenced by what others do. Therefore, we must understand something about the lives of people across oceans and the way they view the world, if we are to successfully interact with them (McCaffrey and Marcus I).

Why is this plagiarism? The student has copied the underlined text word-for-word from the original text. As the copied text has not been placed in quotation marks, the text has been stolen. Even though the student has cited the source, that is, indicated in brackets the authors of the source, the student is still guilty of plagiarism.

- Using unique, original ideas, phrases, sentences, paragraphs, etc. from a single source or a variety of sources such as a text, journal, web page, electronic source, design, artwork etc. in one's work without citing (all) the source(s).

Original version: Everyone knows that we live in a global world. Today, children with inexpensive personal computers send and receive messages across the globe in seconds using technology that was once only available to scientists and statesmen. Native people in the most remote villages in the high mountains of South America gather around a village television set to watch [MTV] and the X-files. Colombian peasants without running water in their homes watch CNBC financial news to decide when to sell their coffee harvest, while high school janitors in Little Rock, Arkansas, keep track of the Singapore stock market to decide when they can retire.

Student version: We live in a shrinking world in which children can communicate with others around the world using computer technology that is much cheaper now than it was several decades ago. In addition, people in remote areas increasingly have access to information from far-flung corners of the globe. For example, South Americans in isolated mountain villages watch MTV and X-files on a communal television set, while Colombian peasants, with no access to running water, tune in to CNBC financial news before they sell their coffee beans.

Why is this plagiarism? The student has clearly used the ideas and thoughts of McCaffrey and Marcus. Even though the ideas and thoughts have been put into the student's own words, the source of the ideas has not been given to the reader. Therefore, the student is guilty of plagiarism.

Even when students seek to summarize the main points of any passage(s), they should take care to use their own words; that is, the summary must differ considerably from the original in terms of both vocabulary and sentence structure. Every attempt has been made to ensure that the definitions above and accompanying examples are comprehensive. However, students should understand that examples of cheating and plagiarism other than those listed above are equally unlawful. Any form of plagiarism or cheating, as well as any other form of academic dishonesty, is in violation of the AUD Honor Code and hence in breach of the university's desired standard of integrity.

Other Forms of Academic Dishonesty

Students who have falsified or omitted academic information from applications and other university documents have also violated the AUD Honor Code.

Administration of the University's Academic Integrity Policy

The university uses a two-level process for reviewing suspected violations of academic integrity. The first level is the Dean of the school in which the violation is suspected to have been committed. The second level is the University Honor Council (UHC).

The Provost and Chief Academic Officer oversees all aspects of administration of the university's academic integrity policy; both of the preceding levels are answerable directly to the Provost and Chief Academic Officer on all matters pertaining to this process.

I. Review and Decision at the School Dean Level

- A. A faculty member, staff member or student who has reason to believe that a violation of the Honor Code has been committed by one or more students must notify the Dean of the school in which the violation is suspected to have been committed, in writing.
- B. If the suspected violation occurs at the end of a semester or summer term when final grades are due for submission to the Registrar's Office, a grade of "Incomplete" will be assigned in the course in which the violation is suspected to have occurred. The "Incomplete" will remain on the student's record until the investigation is completed and a final decision is reached on the case.
- C. The Dean carries out the initial investigation of the suspected violation in consultation with the instructor of the course and with the Registrar, to determine if there are previous guilty verdicts for breaches of academic integrity in the student's record.
- D. Based on this investigation, the Dean of the academic unit offering the course decides whether the evidence warrants further action. If no further action is warranted, the case is dismissed.
- E. If further action is warranted, the Dean of the academic unit offering the course determines which of the two following courses of action is appropriate: (1) school level decision on guilt/innocence and penalty in case guilt is established, or (2) referral to the UHC.
- F. As a rule, decisions on violations involving graded work that is worth not more than 10% of the course grade are made at the school level, i.e., by the Dean. All other offenses will be referred directly to the UHC.
- G. An appropriate penalty, commensurate with the offense, will be applied from the menu below (Section VI). In this case, the final course grade specified in the penalty will immediately be communicated in writing to the Registrar's Office. This grade will replace the "Incomplete" grade if the latter grade was assigned earlier pending completion of the investigation (per I. B above).
- H. Regardless of the weight of the graded work involved, the offense will count as a first offense.
- I. Regardless of the weight of the graded work involved, a second offense will always be referred by the school Dean directly to the UHC.
- J. Regardless of the weight of the graded work involved, an offense which potentially constitutes a legal infringement or an act punishable by law will always be referred by the school Dean directly to the UHC with a memorandum (copied to the Provost and Chief Academic Officer) describing the actions that might constitute a legal offense. Examples of such actions include but are not limited to the following:
 - 1. Gaining unauthorized access to exams and other materials or documents in hard copy or on an electronic device through hacking, deception, stealing passwords, or by any other means
 - 2. Making available, leaking, spreading, sharing or otherwise providing unauthorized access to exams and other materials, documents or information
 - 3. Impersonation (taking an exam under the name of another student by presenting the other student's ID; both the impersonator and the impersonated student will be considered accomplices in the offense)
 - 4. Falsification or forgery of documents
 - 5. Providing or receiving benefits (monetary and other) for any of the above actions or for other similar actions
- K. Within two working days, the Dean must inform the student, in writing, of the violation of the Honor Code, of the verdict reached, and the penalty. The letter to the student must be dated and signed and a copy must be sent to the course instructor, the Registrar (for filing in the student's file), the Dean of the student's school, and the Provost and Chief Academic Officer.
- L. Before the decided penalty against the student for violation of the Honor Code becomes final, the student is entitled to appeal the Dean's verdict and penalty within three working days*. In this case, the student will address his/her appeal in writing (signed and dated) to the UHC Chair. The school Dean will then refer the case in writing, with all documentation, evidence and the basis for the Dean's verdict and penalty, to the UHC.
- M. If a student chooses to appeal the Dean's verdict and penalty to the UHC (per I.L above), the UHC's decision will be final and not subject to further appeal to higher levels.

II. Review and Decision by the UHC

- A. The UHC is a body of academics, administrators, and student representatives whose functions are (1) to examine all suspected violations of the Honor Code that are referred to it by school Deans (including cases referred to the UHC by a school Dean as a result of a student appeal (I.J above), or because the case is a potential second offense (I.H above), (2) to reach reasoned decisions on the innocence or guilt of students involved in such suspected violations, and (3) to decide appropriate disciplinary measures for students found guilty of violating the Honor Code.
 - 1. The UHC is answerable directly to the Provost and Chief Academic Officer.
 - 2. The UHC will serve for a two year-term.
 - 3. The Chair of the UHC will be a school Dean appointed by the Provost and Chief Academic Officer for a two-year term.
- B. Besides the Chair, the UHC will consist of eight representatives:
 - 1. one academic member from each of the five schools other than the school whose Dean chairs the UHC will be selected by the UHC Chair in consultation with the other school Deans (these members must have been in AUD's employ for at least one full academic year),
 - 2. one member from Student Affairs (Dean of Student Affairs or designate), and,
 - 3. two Student Government Association (SGA) representatives who must have completed at least three semesters of full-time study at AUD and must not be currently registered in the same section of the course in which the violation of the Honor Code is suspected to have occurred.
- C. For each of the UHC members including the Chair, an alternate member will be designated in order to avoid delays in case of inability of regular members to attend.

III. UHC Procedures

- A. Upon receiving a case of a suspected academic integrity violation from a school Dean, the UHC Chair notifies, by letter, the student(s) suspected of committing the violation of the date, time and place of the UHC's meeting. The student should be instructed to collect the letter from the office of the UHC Chair.
- B. If, during the investigation, the student admits committing the breach of academic integrity, the UHC Chair will have the student sign a written admission. The UHC will decide an appropriate penalty from the menu below (Section IV) based on the available evidence and the student's written admission. The final course grade specified in the penalty will immediately be communicated in writing to the Registrar's Office and will replace the "Incomplete" grade if the latter grade was assigned earlier pending completion of the investigation (per I. B above).
- C. The UHC proceedings will include interviewing the student(s) involved and, if required, calling witnesses to testify, as well as conducting a follow-up investigation prior to reaching a decision.
- D. Within two working days*, from the date of the UHC decision, the UHC Chair must inform the student(s) involved in writing of the alleged violation of the Honor Code, of the verdict reached, and penalties decided by the UHC if a guilty verdict was reached. The letter to the student(s) must be dated and signed by the UHC Chair, and copies must be sent to the Provost and Chief Academic Officer and to the Registrar for replacing the "Incomplete" (if such a grade was assigned earlier - I. B above) with either the final course grade specified in the penalty (for guilty verdict) or with the final course grade free of any penalty (for a not guilty verdict), and for filing in the student file(s) and to the Provost and Chief Academic Officer.
- E. Before any penalty decided against the student(s) for violation of the Honor Code, the student(s) is/are entitled to appeal the Honor Council's verdict and penalty in writing (signed and dated) to the Provost and Chief Academic Officer within three working days* from the date the UCC letter was sent to the student(s).
- F. The Provost and Chief Academic Officer will respond to the appeal in writing. A copy of the Provost and Chief Academic Officer's dated and signed response to the student(s) will be sent to the UHC Chair, the school Dean, the course instructor and the Registrar.
- G. The Provost and Chief Academic Officer has the right to overturn the UHC's verdict and/or penalty. In such exceptional cases, the Provost and Chief Academic Officer will inform the UHC Chair in writing of the decision to overturn the verdict and/or penalty and the reasons behind this decision.
- H. A final appeal may be made to the President of the university. The Grievance Officer is available to guide the student through this stage of the appeal process.
- I. A student can waive the right to appear before the Honor Council. The student should complete a Waiver of the Right to Appear before Conduct or Honor Council available through the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs and the Office of the Provost and Chief Academic Officer.

IV. The UHC Hearing

- A. At the start of each UHC hearing, the Chair informs all members of the confidentiality of the case and their obligation to uphold complete confidentiality throughout the university community.
- B. The UHC Chair presents a short overview of the case. The overview should contain all information and evidence pertinent to the case including evidence such as papers, exams, videotapes, photos, etc. The UHC may request the assistance of experts from the university community if the evidence is too technical or difficult for UHC members to comprehend.
- C. The suspected student must appear at the scheduled hearing unless he or she has completed a Waiver of the Right to Appear Before Conduct or Honor Council. If the student encounters an unforeseen emergency, he or she must present acceptable documentation supporting the emergency or the absence.
- D. The UHC may also call in witnesses if it is felt that their presence and testimony will provide information pertinent to the case. Character witnesses are not permitted nor are friends or family members of the suspected violator.
- E. At the start of the hearing, the UHC Chair asks the suspected violator if he or she understands the suspected violation and how he or she wishes to plead. All evidence will be shared with the suspected violator.
- F. The UHC then questions the suspected violator and witnesses involved with the case.
- G. Following the testimony provided by the suspected violator and witnesses, the UHC will deliberate and come to a conclusion regarding the case. The conclusion will also include a recommendation of a suitable sanction/punishment. All members of the UHC will vote on both guilt/innocence and the sanction/punishment. Voting will be by secret ballot and members are required not to disclose how they voted to anyone (including other UHC members) during and after the meeting.
- H. The UHC Chair will then compose a letter to the accused student informing him or her of the UHC decision regarding guilt or innocence and the penalty in case of guilt. This letter will be shared with all UHC members to ensure accuracy and proper wording. If approved by the UHC, the signed and dated letter will be sent to the student with copies to UHC members, the instructor of the course in which the violation took or was suspected to have taken place, the Registrar for replacing any "Incomplete" assigned earlier with either the final course grade specified in the penalty (for guilty verdict) or with the final course grade free of an penalty (for a not guilty verdict), and for filing in the student's permanent file, the Chief Financial Officer (if needed, should the student be dismissed), the Housing Manager (if the student is dismissed and if he or she resides in the residence halls), and the Provost and Chief Academic Officer.

V. The Appeal Process

- A. Students who believe they have a valid basis to appeal the decision of the UHC have three working days from the receipt of the decision letter to appeal the decision. All appeals must be made in writing to the Office of the Provost and Chief Academic Officer.
- B. Granting of appeals is exceptional. Appeals may be granted if the UHC penalty was inappropriate (based on the penalties below), if new evidence becomes available, if the case was mishandled, and/or if a decision was made without the testimony of the suspected violator in the case of a documented emergency.
- C. If the UHC decision is overturned and the appeal is granted by the Provost and Chief Academic Officer, a new letter indicating the new decision will be sent to the student and copied to the UHC members, the instructor of the course in which the violation took or was suspected to have taken place, the President, the Registrar and, if appropriate, the Chief Financial Officer and the Housing Manager.
- D. If the appeal is denied by the Provost and Chief Academic Officer, the student may appeal to the President within three working days from the date of the Provost and Chief Academic Officer's letter.

VI. Penalties for Academic Integrity Violations

- A. Following careful consideration at the school Dean level (I.F above) or deliberation at the UHC level (III.D above), a penalty commensurate with the seriousness of the offense and the degree of student culpability will be determined from the menu below:
 - 1. Zero on the graded work involved in the offense (normally applied to offenses reviewed at the school Dean level, although more severe penalties may not be ruled out).
 - 2. A grade of F in the course.
 - 3. A grade of F in the course plus suspension in the academic term following the term in which the offense was committed.
 - 4. A grade of F in the course in which the offense was committed, immediate withdrawal from all courses in which the student is enrolled, and immediate dismissal from the university (dismissal is subject to ratification by the Provost and Chief Academic Officer before going into effect)
- B. The penalty for second-time offenses can never be less than VI.A.3 above.

- C. Students who aid in someone else's cheating or plagiarism are equally at fault and will be sanctioned accordingly.
- D. The university reserves the right to inform the appropriate authorities and pursue legal avenues which may result in prosecuting students found guilty of committing acts that constitute legal infringements punishable by law (examples of which are listed in I.J above).
- E. The university also reserves the right to inform the appropriate authorities and pursue legal avenues which may result in prosecuting other members of the AUD community as well as external parties who aid, abet or participate in breaches of academic integrity that constitute legal infringements or acts punishable by law. Such cases must be referred promptly to the Provost and Chief Academic Officer with all relevant information. A separate (non-UHC) investigation process will be conducted by the Provost and Chief Academic Officer and appropriate actions and remedies will be decided.

Students in need of clarification of the university's Academic Integrity Policy may consult the Dean or Associate Dean of their School or their Department Chair.

*Holidays and extended periods during which the university is closed (such as Eid holiday, the year-end break between semesters, and Spring break) may delay the above process at all levels: School Dean, UHC and appeal. In such cases, the process will resume as soon as possible upon reopening of the university and return of all university personnel involved in administration of this process.

Computer Proficiency Examination

Students who believe that on the basis of computer proficiency acquired prior to joining university they should be exempt from taking COMP 101 may sit for the AUD Computer Proficiency Examination. If exempted, the student will be required to substitute COMP 101 with COMP 103, COMP 110 or ENGG 140. (Engineering Majors are not required to substitute any course if they have been exempted from COMP 101).

Tutoring Services

Through the Math Tutor Center and the Writing Center, AUD provides valuable and complementary services for members of its community.

Math Tutor Center

The Math Tutoring Center provides students enrolled in mathematics courses (including Math 090, 095, 101, 103, 104, 105, 200, 201, 205, 210, and 220) the opportunity to receive assistance in their efforts to be successful in these courses. The Center operates on a walk-in basis. There is no need to make an appointment. The tutors who staff the Center are students who have demonstrated an excellent ability to understand mathematics as well as an ability to help others understand. Students are encouraged to utilize the Center as often as needed. The Center operates throughout the semester (except for the first week of classes and the week of final exams) and is open Sunday through Thursday (unless otherwise specified).

Writing Center

The American University in Dubai offers the services of a Writing Center where all members of the AUD community (students/staff/faculty) can receive one-to-one assistance on writing tasks. Students can receive assistance on assignments at various stages of the process of completion. Assistance is provided by full- and part-time instructors on writing tasks in any discipline with a focus on developing overall academic writing skills. Throughout each semester, Writing Center staff offer workshops for all AUD members on various topics related to writing (i.e., sentence combining, in-text documentation, etc.).

Engineering Tutor Center

The Engineering Tutoring Center at AUD provides pre-Engineering and Engineering students enrolled in physics and programming courses (PYHS 201, PHYS202, ENGG 140, EECE250) with the assistance they need to excel in these courses. The center aims to help students attain the outcomes required in terms of problem solving, experimentation, and algorithm development. Tutoring is provided by senior students who have extensive experience in these topics, as well as Engineering instructors.

Speaking Skills Center

The Speaking Skills Center (SSC) welcomes any student to walk in and work one-to-one with a peer tutor on their oral communication skills. Students choose what they want to improve on and the tutor guides them through exercises, discussions, or practicing their full presentation for feedback. The SSC remedies various student issues (e.g. anxiety) while aiding faculty (e.g. instructional assistance). Tutors are overseen by AUD's Professor of Oral Rhetoric, and they are trained with an inventory of methods to assist students.

Student Attendance (Undergraduate Students)

Students are expected to be in class for all scheduled class periods (including makeup classes). All matters related to student absences (making up work missed, tests missed, etc.) are specified in the course syllabus. Because the university believes that attendance in classes is an indispensable part of the learning experience, the following rules regulate attendance and grading:

- There is no difference between excused and unexcused absences. An absence is an absence;
- Excessive absence, defined by the equivalent of two weeks (semester) or one week (summer session), may lower the student's class participation grade. The degree to which the class participation grade is lowered is at the discretion of the instructor, as clearly defined in the course syllabus;
- Absences are counted from the first day of the term.
- Students are expected to be in class on time.

The instructor is responsible for denoting the attendance policy (including tardiness) and including guidelines for assessing class participation on the class syllabus. The policy for handing in assignments late is determined by the instructor and is stated on the class syllabus.

At the discretion of the Office of Academic Affairs, absences incurred due to participation in AUD-sponsored activities or sports tournaments may not figure in the calculation of a student's total absences. The Provost in consultation with the Athletics Coordinator will determine if the tournament deserves official excused absence status (usually accepted tournaments include AUD hosted tournaments, overseas tournaments, and U.A.E. Higher Education Sports Federation Tournaments). Student-athletes are expected to notify their instructors as soon as they are aware they will be missing a class due to a status approved athletic competition.

Any student who is experiencing psychological distress and is unable to attend his or her scheduled classes must first see the AUD Personal Counselor. The Counselor carefully assesses the student's psychological state. Should the Counselor determine the student is unable to attend classes, the Counselor immediately contacts the Provost and informs him of the student's condition. Respecting the confidentiality policy of counseling services, the Counselor discloses only the minimal information needed to explain the situation. The Provost authorizes any absences, if any, from the course. (The student retains the options of withdrawing or seeking an Incomplete).

Student Attendance and Class Participation (Graduate Students)

At the graduate level, classroom activities and the learning process in general can be greatly enriched through the active participation of students. It is therefore expected that students will contribute continually to the learning outcomes of the program by attending all class sessions and bringing their diverse professional backgrounds to bear on the lectures, discussions, presentations, and other classroom activities.

While attendance will be taken at the start of each class session, it is not attendance per se, but the amount and quality of class participation that may, at the discretion of the instructor, be included in the evaluation plan and final grade determination for the course. The weight assigned to class participation may vary depending on the subject matter and nature of each course, but will not exceed 15% of the final grade. Instructors will state their policy on class participation in their course syllabi, including the weight assigned to class participation in the final grade determination.

For the Executive Master of Business Administration (E.M.B.A.) program, class attendance as per the pre-determined course sequencing is compulsory. In excruciating circumstances, should a student miss a module, a student can make up the module through self-study. The decision to allow missing of a module is made at the discretion of the EMBA Program Director and the Provost. A student can miss a maximum of one module per year. A module constitutes one extended weekend (Thursday afternoon, Friday and Saturday) and can span different courses (e.g. missing Thursday of one course, Friday of another course etc.) Any additional modules missed would need to be repeated as per the course schedule of the subsequent incoming EMBA cohorts, noting that this will severely delay completion and subsequent graduation from the program.

Faculty Delays

There may be times when an instructor is delayed for class. The Administration requires that students wait 15 minutes after the scheduled beginning of the class for the instructor to appear. Should the instructor not appear within this 15-minute waiting period, the class is considered cancelled. Classes, which are cancelled due to instructor delay, will be made up.

Grade Appeal

Questions and concerns about grades often the result from misunderstandings about grading practices and expected standards. Direct communication between instructors and students usually clear up these misunderstandings. In some cases, however, a grade appeal is warranted. Students have the right to appeal a grade and request a reconsideration of the assigned grade; however, they must provide sufficient, tangible evidence to support their request for a re-examination of the assigned grade.

Reasons for reconsideration of a grade appeal may include:

- Miscalculation of marks;
- Misgrading of a paper, project or exam;
- Application of an evaluation or grading system which was not specified in the course syllabus;
- A departure from the instructor's previously announced standards;
- Assignment of a grade on some basis other than the student's performance in the course;
- Demonstrable evidence of discrimination or prejudice in the assignment of the grade; and,
- Arbitrary assignment of grade (lack of consistent and equitable standards for grading).

Grade Appeals will be dismissed if:

- Allegations by the student do not indicate erratic grading;
- The basis of the disagreement is with the instructor's particular grading standards; and,
- The appeal is not submitted within the given one month period subsequent to the issuance of the grade.

Students should follow the steps listed below to clarify any questions about a particular grade or the instructor's grading policy:

- The student should make an appointment with the appropriate instructor when there is any question about a particular grade or the instructor's grading policy. Students in the Study Abroad Program (SAP) may contact the instructor via telephone or email;
- The student seeking additional clarification related to grading should make an appointment with the appropriate Dean, Associate Dean or Chair;
- The student seeking further recourse related to a grade received should make an appointment with the Provost and Chief Academic Officer. The Provost and Chief Academic Officer will discuss the questions raised with the instructor, give the student a perspective regarding the grade and review the mechanism for appeal. The Grievance Officer is available to guide the student through the appeal process;
- The student may request a Grade Appeal Council to review the matter. Composition/operations of the Council parallel those of the Honor Council;
- In the event that the grade in question is received in a course taught by the Provost and Chief Academic Officer, the Dean, Associate Dean or Chair will discuss the matter with the President, give the student a perspective regarding the grade and review the mechanism for appeal. All grade appeals must be submitted within one month subsequent to issuance of the grade; and,
- If a student chooses to appeal a decision beyond the Grade Appeal Council decision, all documentation can be submitted to the Provost and Chief Academic Officer for review.

Additional information/documentation on the grade appeal process can be obtained at the Office of the Provost and Chief Academic Officer.

Mid-Semester Reports

Early Alert

The university alerts the students by the 4th week of the Fall and Spring semesters if the student's overall perceived or actual performance in any course is considered unsatisfactory or would lead to an unsatisfactory result. The instructor does this electronically. The online report is communicated with the student's academic advisor and provides reasons for the student's poor performance as determined by the instructor so that the advisors can follow up and support the student.

Midterm Academic Assessment

The university informs the students by the 7th week of the Fall and Spring semesters and by the 3rd week of the Summer terms when the student's grade in any course is less than C. Students are requested to discuss their academic standing with the related professor and meet with their academic advisor and the Academic Support Unit for any support needs.

Periodic Evaluation of Academic Standing (Undergraduate Students)

All students must maintain satisfactory academic performance in order to remain enrolled at AUD. Academic standing is evaluated periodically by measuring each student's cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA). Students are expected to meet minimum CGPA requirements in order for their academic performance to be considered satisfactory. Undergraduate students are required to maintain a minimum CGPA of 2.0 throughout their enrollment in order to be in good academic standing. A student's CGPA will be reviewed at the end of each academic term after grades have been posted to determine whether the student is in good academic standing.

If a student changes his or her program or major, the grades received in the former program or major continue to be calculated as part of the student's CGPA.

Academic Warning and Academic Probation

- A student will be placed on Academic Warning at the end of the first academic term in which his or her CGPA falls below 2.0.
- At the end of the next academic term, the student is removed from Academic Warning and returned to good academic standing if he or she achieves a CGPA of 2.0 or higher.
- If at the end of the next academic term, immediately following placement on Academic Warning, the student's CGPA remains below 2.0, he or she will be placed on Academic Probation.
- Once a student is placed on Academic Probation, he or she has one academic term to achieve good academic standing. A student who, at the end of one academic term on Academic Probation, raises his or her CGPA to 2.0 or higher is removed from Academic Probation and returned to good academic standing.
- Students are notified of placement on Academic Warning and Academic Probation in writing.

Conditions Applicable to Students on Academic Warning and Academic Probation

- Students on Academic Warning and Academic Probation must consult with their assigned Academic Advisor prior to selecting their courses for the next academic term to obtain their approval to register, course load limitation may be applied.
- As long as a student remains on Academic Warning or Academic Probation, his/her performance will continue to be reviewed by their assigned Academic Advisor who will guide and support the student in order to achieve academic growth reflected in improved academic standing.
- Students on Academic Probation must give priority to repeating all required failed courses, and are advised to repeat other courses in which they obtained failing or low grades.
- Students who have failed a developmental course (or have a foundation hold) must meet with the Academic Support Division for academic advising prior to registering for courses.

Academic Suspension

- If a student's CGPA, at the end of one academic term on Academic Probation, is still below 2.00, he or she is placed on Academic Suspension from the university for the next academic term.
- Students are notified of placement on Academic Suspension in writing.

Readmission from Academic Suspension

Students placed on Academic Suspension may be granted readmission to the university if they apply for readmission at the end of their suspension period. See the section below on the Academic Appeals Process.

Students granted readmission from Academic Suspension will be placed on Academic Probation. The course load for these students will be not less than 9 credit hours and not more than 13 credit hours per semester, and must be 3 credit hours in Summer terms. A student's Dean, Associate Dean or Chair may set other appropriate conditions and expectations regarding courses to be taken and academic performance upon readmission. The university may set other appropriate conditions.

Removal of Academic Probation for Students Readmitted from Academic Suspension

Students returning from Academic Suspension are readmitted on Academic Probation. They are expected to achieve good academic standing by attaining a CGPA of 2.0 or higher, upon attempting a minimum of 24 credit hours following readmission. Academic Probation will be removed at the end of the academic term in which this result is achieved.

Academic Dismissal

A readmitted student will be dismissed from the university if, upon attempting a minimum of 24 credit hours following his or her readmission from Academic Suspension, the student fails to achieve a CGPA of 2.0 or higher. A readmitted student will also be dismissed from the university if, at the end of any academic term after completing the minimum 24 credit hours, the student's CGPA once again drops below 2.0.

The Academic Appeals Process

Appeals of Academic Suspension and Academic Dismissal

A student may appeal to have a suspension or dismissal reversed. This appeal must be filed on-line (<http://registrar.aud.edu/>) by the date reflected on the Academic Calendar.

Denied appeals of suspension result in a period of forced absence from the university. Following this absence (suspension), the student may request to return to the university. This request must be filed on-line by the date reflected on the Academic Calendar.

Approved appeals of suspension result in reversal of suspension. Student's CGPA must be raised to a minimum of 2.00 by the end of the term. Students will be suspended at the end of any academic term after reverse of academic suspension if the student's CGPA once again drops below 2.00.

Applications for Readmission from Academic Suspension

Students may apply online (<http://registrar.aud.edu/>) by the date reflected on the Academic Calendar. The student should attach a letter detailing his or her activities during the suspension period and should explain why the student believes his/her academic performance will improve in the future. Other required documentation should be provided online.

Although students who are academically suspended from AUD often choose to take courses at other institutions to improve areas of weakness or to indicate seriousness of continued academic pursuits, they will not receive transfer credits for those courses upon their readmission to AUD.

Processing Timeline for Academic Appeals

- Last day to submit the Academic Standing Appeal online is seven (7) days before the beginning of classes. See Academic Calendar.
- Students whose appeals have been denied by the Provost and Chief Academic Officer, may appeal online to the President. Last day to appeal a suspension or dismissal to the President is the first day of classes.

Periodic Evaluation of Academic Standing (Graduate Students)

All students must maintain satisfactory academic performance in order to remain enrolled at AUD. Academic standing is evaluated periodically by measuring each student's cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA). Students are expected to meet minimum CGPA requirements in order for their academic performance to be considered satisfactory. Graduate students are required to maintain a minimum CGPA of 3.0 throughout their enrollment in order to be in good academic standing. A student's CGPA will be reviewed at the end of each academic term after grades have been posted to determine whether the student is in good academic standing. Students admitted to an AUD graduate program on probation must attain a CGPA of 3.0 or higher at the end of their first term in the program.

Limits on Grades

1. Limits on Grades of C or C+

Grades of C and C+ are considered Minimally Acceptable for the purpose of passing a course. No more than two grades of C and/or C+ will count toward completion of the degree requirements. A student who earns C and/or C+ in three core course must repeat one of these courses and secure a grade of B- or higher in order to satisfy the degree completion requirements. A student who earns a third grade of C or C+ in an elective course may either repeat the elective or take another elective instead.

2. Limits on Grades of F

A student who receives a grade of F will be placed on Academic Probation. The course in which an F is earned must be retaken the next term the course is offered. A student who receives a second F grade will be subject to dismissal from the graduate program.

3. Limit on Repeated Courses

A graduate student may not repeat more than three courses. Within this limit, the same course may only be repeated once. All failed courses must be repeated. Failure in the same course twice will result in terminating the student's enrollment in the graduate program.

4. Limit on Ws

Students who withdraw from a course receive a grade of W. Students may receive no more than three W grades.

Academic Probation

In its review following the end of each semester or term, the program's Graduate Academic Committee will identify cases of noncompliance with the above standards and place the following students on academic probation:

- Students whose CGPA has fallen below 3.0.
- Students who have earned a first grade of F in a course.

The Graduate Academic Committee will inform each student placed on probation, in writing, of the specific conditions required for reversion to good academic standing. In all cases, students on academic probation (other than those admitted on probation) must maintain a term GPA of 3.0 or higher until they revert to good academic standing. If a student fails to maintain a minimum term GPA of 3.0 or higher in any subsequent semester, the student will be dismissed from the graduate program.

Conditions Applicable to Students on Academic Probation

Students on Academic Probation must consult with the Program Director prior to selecting their courses and obtaining their academic advisor's approval to register.

Appeal of Termination

A student who has been terminated from the graduate program may be readmitted by filing an appeal to the Program Director, within fifteen days of notification. The School housing the program will reach a decision upon critically assessing the student's academic performance, his or her overall contributions to the classroom learning environment, and his or her prospect for successfully completing the program. The School's decision must be ratified by the Provost and Chief Academic Officer, and will be communicated by the School to the student in writing within five days from receiving the appeal. If the appeal is denied, the student has the right to submit a final appeal of the decision to the President within three days from notification of the denial. The President's decision will be final and will be advised to the student in writing within three days from receiving the appeal.

Students must:

- Have achieved "senior status" (i.e., completed all but 30-32 credit hours) in their degree program;
- Have a minimum CGPA of 3.5; and,
- Not have committed any Conduct Code violations.

 Individual academic units may add additional criteria.*

Application Procedure

1. Applications must be submitted during the student's junior year (before the end of the Spring semester.)
2. An application packet must be submitted to the Scholarship Committee of the academic unit housing the student's degree program. Application packets must include:
 - letter of application;
 - letters (two) of recommendation from faculty;

4. Head of Scholarships forwards list of recommended candidates and their application packets for final approval and awarding of scholarship(s).

General Education Exit Examination

As part of its assessment of student acquisition of general education competencies, The American University in Dubai administers General Education Entrance and Exit Examinations to entering freshmen and graduating seniors, respectively. Sitting for these Examinations is mandatory.

The General Education Exit Examination is administered twice yearly – once in each of the Fall and Spring semesters. The dates for these Examinations are announced within the first two weeks of the semester. Students completing degree requirements in either of the Summer sessions should sit for the Examination scheduled in the Spring semester.

Fulfillment of a student's request for a diploma will not be finalized until the Director of Institutional Effectiveness (see p. 88) confirms that the student has taken the General Education Exit Examination.

Graduation/Diploma

A student may not request a diploma any earlier than the scheduled date of graduation. The request must be completed online <http://registrar.aud.edu/> prior the end of the student's final semester. Failure to complete the application online by the specified date may result in either a delay in receiving the diploma or an additional charge.

Diplomas are available for personal pick-up by students at the Registrar's Office. A student who prefers an alternative for collecting or receiving his or her diploma should specify on the online request, and pay additional fees for courier services. (For purposes of graduation verification, the university can provide a letter [stamped] to the student until their diploma is issued.)

Graduation Modalities

In order to qualify for graduation, students must meet the following eligibility requirements:

Academic

- Minimum CGPA of 2.0 (3.0 in the case of M.B.A. candidates);
- Clearance by their Dean, Associate Dean or Chair and Provost that all program requirements have been met; and,
- Separately, only those students who complete the last 30 credit hours at AUD are eligible to be awarded an AUD degree.

Administrative

- Clearance by the Finance Office for all financial obligations (including AED600 Diploma Processing Fee);
- Clearance by the Library; and,
- Clearance by Central Services if the student is on a university-sponsored visa.

Diploma

- Clearance by the Director of Institutional Effectiveness that the student (undergraduates only) has taken the General Education Exit Examination;
- Taking the Completion Survey (administered online);

AUD will award degrees at the end of the academic semester or summer session. A student may not request a diploma any earlier than the scheduled graduation date. For the purposes of graduation verification, the university will provide a letter (stamped) to the student until his or her diploma has been provided.

Participation in Annual Graduation Ceremony

The American University in Dubai holds its Commencement Exercises once a year following the Spring semester.

Undergraduate Candidates

In order to be eligible to participate, candidates for undergraduate degrees:

1. must be in good academic standing (cumulative GPA of 2.0 or higher) as of the end of the Spring semester;
2. must have not more than two courses (6 credits which may include any internship or courses required for minors) remaining for completion of their degree requirements by the end of the Spring semester preceding the graduation ceremony; and
3. must complete an Application Form for Participation in the graduation ceremony (available online at graduation.aud.edu), which includes a commitment to take their remaining courses and complete their degree requirements as soon as those remaining courses are offered.

Students who are approved for participation in the graduation ceremony before completing all degree requirements, as described above, are not eligible for school awards or for recognition of graduation honors (Summa Cum Laude, Magna Cum Laude, Cum Laude) at the graduation ceremony. However, these designations will be reflected on transcripts and diplomas if they are justified by the students' CGPA upon completion of all degree requirements.

Administration of the above policy is the purview of the Registrar's Office. Any situation requiring more specific interpretation of the policy will be referred to the Provost and Chief Academic Officer.

Graduate Candidates

In order to be eligible to participate, graduate degree candidates:

1. must be in good academic standing (cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher) as of the end of the Spring semester; and
2. must have not more than one course (3 credits, including Thesis or Internship) remaining for completion of their degree requirements by the end of the Spring semester preceding the graduation ceremony; and
3. must complete the remaining course not later than the Fall semester of the same academic year; OR (in the case of a Thesis) must have an approved Thesis Proposal with a completion timeline and an assigned Thesis Advisor; OR (in the case of an Internship) must have written confirmation of an approved Internship to be completed not later than the Fall semester of the same calendar year); and
4. must complete and sign an application form for participation in the graduation ceremony (available in the Registrar's Office), which includes a commitment to take their remaining course and complete their degree requirements as soon as that remaining course is offered (not later than the Fall semester of the same calendar year, including Internships), OR, in the case of Theses, within the time limit for completion as governed by graduate program policy.

Graduate students who are approved for participation in the graduation ceremony before completing all degree requirements, as described above, are not eligible for the Graduate Award.

Time Limit for Completion of Undergraduate Degree Programs

All course work and other requirements for baccalaureate degrees must be completed no later than ten calendar years from the date of initial admission to the program. Study terms and inactive terms, during which the student was not registered in any courses, will all be counted in determining adherence to this time limit.

Online Access to Grades

All AUD students have the capability to access their grades online through the student portal. This practice is highly encouraged at AUD. Students should contact the Registrar's Office on how to access the student portal.

AUD Global Seminars

An exciting opportunity exists for students at AUD to earn academic credit toward their degree by participating in university-sponsored courses abroad. A student may only receive credit (three hours) toward graduation for one AUD Global seminar. In order to register for a second course abroad, a student must obtain the written approval of the Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences. Academic credit will be granted and a grade assigned for the second course abroad, but not in fulfillment of degree requirements.

Withdrawals from AUD Global Seminars are not permitted.

Should students majoring in a given discipline wish to take an AUD Global Seminar course specific to that discipline, the Office of the Provost and Chief Academic Officer will, on the recommendation of the head of the academic unit housing that discipline, consider authorizing such a course to fulfill Professional Elective requirements. In such cases, the course discipline-specific code will be used (e.g., BUSI, VICD, IDES).

Students taking AUD Global Seminar courses are evaluated by a letter grade.

COMMUNICATIONS OFFICE

Mission

The Mission of the Office of Communications, is to oversee marketing, communications operations and build awareness, create identity and foster relationships for AUD among the university's key constituencies. AUD Library

The Library at the American University in Dubai provides a collection of print, multimedia and online digital resources to support the university's teaching and research objectives.

AUD's library has access to over 300,000 print and e-books focusing on the university's programs in international studies, business, communication and information studies, engineering, architecture, visual communication, and interior design, and arts and sciences (including Middle Eastern studies). Subscriptions to over 100 print and online journals, newspapers and magazines provide an extensive and varied collection of current periodical literature. In addition, the library provides access to a rich collection of full-text, web-based databases, containing articles from thousands of academic journals, magazines, and international newspapers. These resources enable students and faculty members to conduct research on an extensive range of subjects. The library catalog, e-books and most databases are available both on and off campus, providing continuous access to information resources.

The library's collection of online databases include core academic resources, including JSTOR; academic and commercial publishers' databases, Oxford, Taylor & Francis, Sage, Emerald and Elsevier; and proprietary platforms include Euromonitor Passport and Thomson Reuters EIKON. Other databases include video streaming, primary sources and image platforms. Access to most of these resources is available through a single federated, searching platform – EBSCO Discovery Search. Resources are further showcased on the library's website and on online research and course guides (Libguides), ensuring students are better able to identify core resources for their course and assignment requirements.

The library has 56 computers in three computer labs and the reference area and is linked to the campus-wireless network. All computers have the required software to support student assignments and provide high-speed access to online resources. Scanners, networked printers, and a photocopier are available. Printing credits are available for purchase and an automated print credit machine is available in the library for this purpose. These tools the library's information resources assist students with research and in the preparation and delivery of assignments.

The library is centrally located, easily accessible, and provides quiet and collaborative learning spaces to suit student study needs. Four group study rooms are available for collaborative project work. A Writing Center staffed by English department faculty, provides further assignment support for students on site.

The Library staff supports AUD's commitment to students' academic success. Library staff are all information professionals.

Qualified librarians provide the following services to students:

- reference and citation support;
- individualized or group instruction on databases and other library resources;
- curriculum integrated instructional sessions on searching strategies and the appropriate use of information sources;

Students are required to identify themselves (AUD Student Cards) to check out resources and should have the necessary login credentials to access resources off-campus. Loan periods for physical items vary according to material type and student status. All items and overdue books must be returned before students can register for classes for the coming semester. Students who are accepted and enrolled on a full-time basis can be sponsored by AUD for a student resident visa for one year (renewable). The current fee is AED 2,000, in addition to a refundable AED 3,000 visa security deposit. This deposit is refunded once the sponsorship has been cancelled within the time frame set by the university.

The university keeps the residence visa active for three months after the date of graduation to give students the opportunity to find employment and transfer their visas. Students should report to the Office of the Visa Officer at the end of this three-month period to satisfy the requirements for cancelling the visa. Please note that the university will take the necessary legal action against students who fail to report within this period. In such cases, the student will forfeit the AED 3,000 security deposit.

Accordingly, the students will forfeit their Passport Security Deposit.

ABOUT AUD CAMPUS/CITY

Dubai is a modern city rooted in centuries of Arab culture and values. Since the formation of the United Arab Emirates in 1971, Dubai has emerged as a Middle Eastern hub for multinational businesses and a location for sport enthusiasts. Skyscrapers tower above traditional mosques. The “Pearl of the Gulf” combines the bustle of a busy port city and international business center with a reverence for Muslim tradition to create a city abundant with opportunities.

Arabic is the official language of the United Arab Emirates, but English is used widely in business and casual conversation. With a blend of the traditional and modern, as well as a high level of respect for various customs and religions, Dubai is one of the world’s most cosmopolitan cities.

The campus of The American University in Dubai is the material expression of the university’s Mission and character. Two words come to mind in describing this campus – American and world-class: “American” because of its sobriety and Jeffersonian architectural rigor, “world-class” because of the notable quality of the campus and accompanying facilities.

Indeed, the facilities that comprise the multi-edifice campus are nothing less than impressive, whether they be found in the academic wings, student and faculty housing or administrative complex. Specifically, 15 buildings dot the campus today, a Student Center, housing indoor sports facilities, food-court, 50 offices and 20 classrooms/labs - in addition to several other amenities.

The accomplishment of AUD’s objective to deliver a genuinely American education is facilitated by the sports facilities (soccer field, outdoor track, tennis/volleyball/basketball courts, swimming pool) and other space that provide students with the opportunity to engage in extracurricular activities which constitute student life on a typical US-based campus. A 900-seat auditorium serves as a venue for student assemblies, conferences, and cultural events. A Student Center, housing indoor sports facilities, was inaugurated in September, 2008. A central indoor stadium is designed so that it can be dismantled into two independent courts used for indoor football, handball, basketball or volleyball. This stadium has a capacity of 2,500 spectators, in addition to an outdoor spectator’s gallery that faces the soccer field and accommodates a public of 300. Separately, there are two squash playgrounds and a 1,600-square feet gymnasium for males and females and an aerobics/dancing/music room.

Advanced technology supports all aspects of campus operations; most appropriately, the delivery of the university’s academic programs. Specifically, eight computer labs form the basis for instruction in information systems and business administration. Two language laboratories serve to enhance teaching effectiveness in the university’s intensive/academic English courses.

The Blackboard™ system is deployed to provide instructional support in all courses offered by the university, and students can access it from any location in the world where there is online access.

There are three port-a-cabins which function as workshop spaces for all three departments. The model making workshop has large tables for studio courses as well as a properly vented spray booth. The lighting/furniture lab is a classroom space with additional materials to support courses in lighting and furniture. The third workshop is staffed by a lab technician. This space houses a Universal Laser Cutter Machine ILS.

School of Arts and Sciences (SOAS) classes are held in thirty-six different classrooms throughout the campus. All of the classrooms in which arts and sciences classes are taught are equipped with a white board, a front desk and chair, a desktop computer and monitor and a projector. In order to facilitate use of the projector during class, all faculty have access to clickers. In many of the classrooms, the desks are “moveable” to facilitate group work among the students. The only “specialty” classroom is E408, the physics lab. There are ten workstations, with two chairs and a desktop and monitor. Arts and sciences students have access to four computer labs. Students also have access to all general use computer labs throughout the campus. All computers in all computer labs are equipped with Microsoft Windows and are linked to the AUD network.

The School of Arts and Sciences operates the academic support center, which provides free academic assistance in mathematics and on students’ writing assignments as well as a speaking skills center. The center is located in room E 116, on the ground floor of the E-Building.

The Mohammed Bin Rashid School for Communication (MBRSC) provides its students in Digital Production/Storytelling and Journalism programs with facilities to assist them in the completion of their tasks/projects.

In addition, all classrooms and computer labs in the business school are equipped with an Instructor PC (HP EliteDesk 800 G1 SFF) connected to a ceiling-mounted projector as well as audio speakers.

The AUD-IBM Center of Excellence for Smarter Logistics has a physical address. Projects do not need to be in the supply chain field, as logistics overlaps with several fields. The room serves several objectives, hence its versatile design. It can be set as a board room with 18 seats, a venue for concurrent break-out sessions in separate groups of three teams (six people each) and a classroom conducive for group discussions or even formal lectures (if needed). All these configurations can be made on-demand in a few minutes. From a technology perspective, the room is connected to IBM Cloud and has access to the majority of IBM tools and services (normally available for special education partners). Cloud connectivity remains work-in-progress. The most important aspect is having access to IBM talent and labs for collaborations on mutual projects. Faculty are encouraged to use the center as a means to inspire professional collaborations with other entities in the IBM ecosystem (e.g., clients, universities, labs, etc.)

Moreover, students and faculty have access to several fully equipped additional lecture rooms outside Building B. The Auditorium (capacity 900), Room C 227 (capacity 120) and E 421 (capacity 190) for example are available to host conferences, high profile guest lectures and workshops.

The EMBA building is home to the Executive Master of Business Administration (EMBA) program and the AUD Entrepreneurship and Innovation Centre (AEIC).

The two-story building is designed to ensure an optimal learning environment by utilizing natural light and open plan spaces for collaboration and sharing. The ground floor houses four study rooms; a theater style lecture room that can seat up to 100 students; a flat lecture room and various multi-functional office spaces. The first floor has a conference room that can seat up to forty-five people; three breakout rooms; the office of the Provost; the office of the EMBA Program Director; the AEIC and several office spaces. Throughout the building there are various lounge areas overlooking the greenery and/or the seated terrace outside. The building is equipped with the latest technology to support teaching and group work including teleconferencing and casting facilities.

AUD's School of Engineering houses several labs. The physics lab is equipped with Pasco equipment for conducting a broad range of experiments in motion dynamics, electricity and magnetism. The engineering computer labs house over 100 PC's, equipped with educational and professional engineering software including MatLab, Maple, PSPICE, AutoDesk, Primavera, GeoSuite, ETABS, SAFE, SAP2000, and Heastad Methods software.

The Electrical and Computer Engineering Labs comprise 14 stations with complete sets of oscilloscopes, digital multimeters, triple DC power supplies, logic analyzers, function generators, operational amplifiers, semiconductor curve tracers, a PCB printer, and a collaborative robotic arm. The labs are also equipped with educational equipment for electric power systems including DC motors, 3-phase motors, transformers, induction motors, and variable speed drives. The Civil Engineering Labs are equipped with concrete and steel testing equipment, theodolites and total stations for field surveying, environmental water and air quality measurement and water treatment systems, and material and geotechnical equipment for specific gravity, hardness, toughness, soil classification, compaction, permeability, consolidation, direct shear and triaxial testing. The Mechanical Engineering Labs house heat and mass exchange units, material microstructure characterization equipment, a number of 3D printers for rapid prototyping, two CNC machines, a laser cutter, and a fully-equipped engineering shop. The Civil and Mechanical Labs also house an Instron Universal Testing Machine, as well as multiple workstations for fluid dynamics and hydraulic experiments.

The School of Education, located on the second floor of Building E, the close proximity of classrooms, faculty offices and an education innovation lab provides dedicated space wherein students and faculty meet, study, teach and learn together. The physical space known as the school of education includes the education innovation lab; office, coordinator for clinical partnerships and research support; office, administrative assistant; and, four faculty offices. A generous education reading library of books and resources related to coursework and research is distributed among the three main faculty offices.

The education innovation lab is located in Building E-203 and covers approximately 570 square feet. Opened in September 2017, it is designed as a space for creativity, collaboration, conversation, and problem-solving, as well as socratic teaching and learning. Thus, all furniture and equipment can be easily moved or reconfigured to suit multiple purposes. At present, the lab consists of one main desk with a PC connected to a ceiling projector, a stationary white board across the front wall, a bookcase, six tables, 18 chairs, four flip charts and one 55' flat screen TV with an Apple TV connection—all on wheels. A bank of ten iPads are also available for student use. In addition, an interactive promethean board was installed in November, 2017.

 The refund amount will be a credit to the student's account and carried forward to the following semester. Non-returning students will receive a refund within 30 days of submitting a request form.

Withdrawal Penalty (Scholarship Students)*

- If an undergraduate student on scholarship exceeds the two-course limit for withdrawals, the following financial penalty will apply for each term the student withdraws from an additional course:
 - If a student is enrolled full-time (15 credits and above in Fall and Spring), the overload tuition rate per credit for the academic year is applicable and will be charged at the time of withdrawal;
 - If a student is enrolled full-time (12 to 14 credits in Fall and Spring), the rate per credit is calculated by dividing the tuition charged by the number of registered credits and will be charged at the time of withdrawal;
 - If a student is enrolled part-time (less than 12 credits in Fall and Spring), the part-time tuition rate per credit for the academic year will be charged at the time of withdrawal.

In the summer sessions, the student will be charged the full tuition for the course(s) from which he or she withdraws.

- If a graduate student on scholarship exceeds the two-course limit for withdrawals, he or she will be charged the full tuition for the course(s) from which he or she withdraws.

* Scholarships appearing in the AUD Undergraduate and Graduate Catalogs.
